Double A Annexation- Property Inventory

The property within the proposed Double A Annexation is currently used for agriculture. There is an existing home that will remain. It will be on a R-10 lot when the development is complete. The fields are used for raising seasonal crops or pasture depending on the year. There are currently 3 mules on the Francom property and one on the Johnson property.

There are no home business at this time. When the proposed R-10 subdivision is built, the existing home will be sold on one lot, while the others will be sold for future homes. Agricultural uses would be terminated at the time of construction.
