

Kate McNeill

Kate is the Utah OSHA Consultation and Education Services Manager, she has been employed with the State of Utah for 14 years. Prior to her employment with the State of Utah, Kate worked in the construction industry for 18 years. She completed three underground tunneling projects, four heavy civil projects and three commercial projects. Kate was responsible for mechanical start-ups, excavation plans (cut, fill, haul, compaction and testing), heavy equipment inspections and has written and implemented numerous standard operating procedures on five federal projects, incorporating employee safety and health into all aspects of a project. Kate ensured compliance with life safety building codes during the construction of a high-rise hotel and has been responsible for workplace safety and health, sampling/air monitoring and was the medical member of a mine rescue team. Kate currently is on the advisory board for Utah Women in Trades.