

4. Indicate your agency's significant accomplishments to date such as the number of victims assisted by your programs and the number of victims referred to the Compensation Program of the Utah Office for Victims of Crime.

As previously mentioned, our program has benefited greatly from having two full time advocates and a volunteer staff since July 2012. The impact of having such a staff is reflected in the number of victims we have served in the availability of an advocate for court and call outs, as well as the ongoing and follow up services provided to victims. In 2013, our program provided 5444 services to 727 victims (victim count includes some death and community assistance). This is an increase of 10% new victims being served and a 44% increase in the number of services provided to victims.

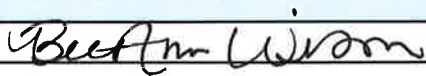

Our program continues having major supportive role in sustaining services at the Family Justice Center on Tuesday evenings. For the past 5 years, the Sheriff's Office has ensured an advocate present at the clinic to answer questions, provide on-site crisis counseling, and refer to other agency advocates, prepared with the tools they need to obtain services.

Our program is in the process of finalizing a contract agreement for victim services with the City of Santaquin. The contract is expected to be completed in July 2014 adding over 9,128 citizens to the population that our program serves. Part of our agreement with the Santaquin Police Department requires that their officers will participate in training regarding the dynamics of victimization along with the services offered by our program.

Our program was successful in implementing the new agreement with the Utah Valley University and their Bachelor of Social Work Program which provides an intern for 450 hours over two semesters to our program. Having the same intern for two semesters has provided the opportunity for the intern to receive enough sufficient training that allows for them to work more time-consuming cases while under the supervision of the coordinator or field supervisor. This has helped our program immensely.

Additionally, our program has grown and maintained well trained advocates, created a greater organization within the Sheriff's Office, and built relationships with other professionals all for the benefit of coming together to provide better services and increase safety for victims.

Since 2003, our program has served over 4540 victims of crime, and referred over 1720 victims to the Utah Office for Victims of Crime for victim compensation.

2. Write each objective as it appears in your grant
3. When reporting quantitative numbers, clearly indicate what is being measured and limit reporting to only those objectives being measured as indicated in your grant

GOAL I:

Empower victims of crime as they participate in the criminal justice system

OBJECTIVE A:

Personally make contact with victims of crime throughout Utah County either in person, telephonically, or through other appropriate and safe means of correspondence

Describe the accomplishment of this objective. Provide any additional narrative as to success.

Our Victim Assistance Program, consisting of two full time employees and one intern, was able to personally make contact with two hundred and two victims in the second quarter. There were 95 primary victims and 107 secondary victims. Initial contact was made primarily by phone within 48 hours of locating the victim or being notified by a deputy or detective about the case. The largest population of victims served was domestic violence yielding 92 primary and secondary victims. Our next largest category served were child sexual abuse victims totaling 36 primary and secondary victims.

OBJECTIVE B:
Provide necessary advocacy services to victims of crime
Describe the accomplishment of this objective. Provide any additional narrative as to success.
Advocates, both volunteer and paid, collected continuous contacts, as well as the services provided to clients during the second quarter and provided 1,391 essential VOCA services to the 202 victims of crime, as well as victims initially counted in previous quarters. There was a large amount of criminal justice support/advocacy due to our program now handling cases in Santaquin city, adding two additional justice court calendars as well as one district court calendar, for advocates to manage.

OBJECTIVE C:
Provide follow-up contact to victims of crime
Describe the accomplishment of this objective. Provide any additional narrative as to success.
During the second quarter, victims were provided follow up 252 different times. Follow up was primarily done by phone, but there were also a lot of e-mail and text follow up with clients in regards to the status of criminal cases, or checking if they had received all the information to refer them to Crime Victim Reparations or therapy referrals.

GOAL II:
Enhance safety and increase services to victims of crime through the legal system
OBJECTIVE A:
Provide in person support and education to victims of crime through attendance at civil protective order and/or stalking injunction hearings
Describe the accomplishment of this objective. Provide any additional narrative as to success.
Advocates provided in-person support to 7 victims of domestic violence or stalking/harassment cases at protective order/stalking injunction hearings. Advocates were able to prepare victims emotionally for the hearing and were able to be present with them in court for support. Advocates also provided referrals to appropriate legal help prior to the hearing.

OBJECTIVE B:
Attend criminal court proceedings with or on behalf of primary and secondary victims of crime
Describe the accomplishment of this objective. Provide any additional narrative as to success.
During the second quarter, advocates attended criminal court with 25 victims of crime. Many victims, due to the distance to court, did not request to come to court; rather, requests were made for the advocate to follow up with the victim regarding the status of the court case. This number does not reflect those services.
In circumstances where the advocate was present in court either advocating for a victim not present, or assisting a victim at court, they were assisting clients with pre-trial conferences, sentencing cases, and preliminary hearings. With advocate assistance, victims felt like they had a voice during the process and that they understood the process better.

OBJECTIVE C:
Provide personal advocacy to Spanish speaking victims of crime through the Family Justice Center where bilingual services/information including UVISA/VAWA applications will be offered
Describe the accomplishment of this objective. Provide any additional narrative as to success.
Advocates were able to provide personal advocacy to one Spanish speaking victim of crime while at the Family Justice Center (FJC). Advocates were able to work with a bilingual advocate, and with their assistance, provided information about protective orders/stalking injunctions, counseling services, Crime Victim Reparations, and answered questions about the criminal justice process. There was one victim who had an immigration attorney contact our office for assistance with a UVISA. Our program was able to gather the necessary paperwork and signatures to sponsor the victim's UVISA.

Our UVU intern has continued to intern for our office during the second quarter. He has completed onsite training which has greatly contributed to his ability to understand victim services and thus better provide assistance to victims in Sheriff's Office and Santaquin city cases. He continues to be a great asset to our program and was assigned more cases due to our other full time advocate being away for the second quarter on maternity leave.
