- 5. Discussion: City Budgetary Items including Large Purchases

Minutes:

Ted Mickelsen mentioned the department needs to purchase extraction equipment for the new engine. He has reviewed the budget, and there are sufficient funds in this year's fiscal budget.

The new equipment comes with a lifetime warranty.

Council Member Malkovich asked how many times a year the equipment is needed.

Council Member Kynaston explained it really does not matter how many times a year the equipment is used, rather that the city has it when it is needed. The current equipment that the city has is hydraulic and quite heavy.

Council Member Hillyard inquired about the plan for the new engine.

Ted Mickelsen explained the new engine needs to be outfitted before it is ready to go out on a call. Once the engine is ready, he hopes to be able to place the other engine on the list for next year's wildfire season.

Council Member Hillyard asked if the extraction tool is critical.

Ted Mickelsen explained the equipment is required if the city wants the engine to be operational.

Council Member Hillyard expressed he feels there are times when it might be good for the council to consider pulling unused funds back into the general budget.

Ted Mickelsen commented that fire equipment is expensive, and the department is in the process of updating the equipment. The second engine that the city has can be used in certain circumstances, but it is aging.

Brian Hutchings clarified that the old engine is out of compliance for the first responses. On the citizen side, homeowner insurance is based on the response time. Having the right gear and ensuring the department complies is good for everyone in the city.
