

Veterans Memorial Amphitheatre at City Hall, North Salt Lake, Utah

This Veteran's Memorial at City Hall honors the service and sacrifice of our community's veterans. As you walk around the circle look at your footstep and you can discover words and phrases etched in stone there. These are words that represent core character traits that our military men and women exemplify such as courage, sacrifice, loyalty, and honor. And there are 17 others!

This memorial provides an important gathering place for our community to come together and reflect on the devotion and dedication of our veterans. You can explore around the space and read the words and think about what each virtue means and how our veterans who have served, who are serving, and who will serve, demonstrate them.

Let it inspire you to give back through volunteering and participating in public service from City Hall to the work you do as good neighbors.

Bamberger Railroad Station

The Beginning Days of North Salt Lake

For over half a century, the famous Bamberger Railroad ran past this site. The old station, built in 1910, was comprised of several buildings, some of which can still be seen across Center Street from this park. This Station was named, the "North Salt Lake Stop," and from that time forward, this area was known by the name of North Salt Lake. The railroad tracks proceeded in a north-northeast direction from the station, crossing Main Street in front of this monument.

The railroad was founded in 1890 by Simon Bamberger, who later became governor of the State of Utah. By 1892, it passes this point and reached Bountiful. Soon thereafter, the company purchased a large swamp north of Farmington, drained it forming a lake, and opened an amusement park there named, 'Lagoon.' By 1908 the railway reached Ogden. Freight and passengers were carried until its shutdown in 1960.
