The 2023 renewal document must be submitted to the Utah Department of Agriculture and Food by 7 November 2023. The document submitted to the Department will be considered the notice of intent to renew specified in R68-27-15. A UDAF Establishment Approval Board Meeting will be held in mid-December to officially approve or request changes to the business plans submitted.

To renew a cultivation license, an approved Medical Cannabis Cultivation Facility must submit the $100,000 annual licensing fee by 31 December 2023.

If the licensing fee and intent to renew are not submitted by 31 December 2023 the licensee shall not continue to operate.

The Renewal Application submitted by a Cannabis Cultivation Facility and approved by the Establishment Board will be considered the business's operating plan starting January 1, 2023. UDAF Inspectors will use the approved operating plan for regulatory purposes. Ensure all information is complete, current, and accurate.

The information provided by the applicant for a Medical Cannabis Cultivation Establishment must fit within the following Guidelines:

- A. Maximum 50 pages
- B. Information provided must be clear and concise; do not repeat information
- C. Ensure each section speaks to the requested information; and are in the same order listed in the application
- D. All approved Operational Change Requests from 2022 must be reflected in submitted Operating Plan
- E. Everything in the application is contained in a single PDF document

A cannabis cultivation license allows the licensee to propagate, cultivate, harvest, trim, dry, cure, and package cannabis for wholesale or transfer to a cannabis production facility. The licensed facility may produce and sell cannabis plants, seeds, and plant tissue culture to other licensed Utah cannabis cultivation facilities.

Prior to approving an application, the department may contact any applicant and request additional supporting documentation or information. The department may conduct face-to-face interviews with an applicant if needed.

The department shall inspect the premises to determine if the applicant complies with state laws, administrative rules, and best practice standards.
