

Tom

I waited an evening before I wrote this to give me time to make sure my thoughts were clear.

Last night when you went after Amy, and in my opinion the wisdom of the board and TUID management, I thought to myself just how ironic and baseless your allegations were. Not sure if you are still harboring ill feelings for things that happened in the past or just want to stir the pot.

When you said that you thought that the board made a mistake in "selling the property they were holding" I had to reflect on what happened during your time on the board. Need I say more? When I raised the issue, of what appears to me to be a totally misappropriating of funds when your board gave Chip a blank check to "repair the Falls unit" there was silence. I hardly have to elaborate on the insanity of the last board handing out a "severance package" to Chip when there were insufficient funds to do so. Let alone the incompetence he displayed. Talk about conflicts Tom.

My feeling and opinion, after two years at Ticaboo, is that several of the old crew want to see Ticaboo either flounder or be controlled by a few who do not have the developments best interests as their focal point. People like Amy, Ray, John, Connie and Alexa is what give many of us confidence that Ticaboo and its welfare, is their focus and goal. They are qualified people who each have talents and skills that we need. Trying to run them off or discredit them, in my opinion, is nothing less than stupidity.

I have spent time talking with each of them. If I were you I would try to give them the tools and support to DO THEIR JOBS. We need them and I will continue to support them in any way that I can. We all should give input to what they are trying to do but berating or degrading their accomplishments nothing.

Tom I know in your heart you want things to be ran in a professional manor for the good of the development....hopefully you will make an effort to support those that are making decisions for the welfare of the Ticaboo community.

I also am grateful we live in a country that people CAN express themselves and their opinions. Also thankful that we don't have to accept them.

Jean
