They would possibly like to purchase this in the future. The crusher is onsite. It will take several weeks to set it up. The dozer located at the crusher has to be repaired. It will cost about $12,000. As discussed at last week's meeting, they will rebuild the bucket on the track hoe instead of replacing it.

Presentation of the State PILT Check
(9:31 a.m.)

Utah Department of Natural Resources, Northeastern Region Supervisor Miles Hanberg presented the In-Lieu Tax Payment of $43,145.70. This is the 2023 contractual in-lieu tax payment on land the Division of Wildlife Resources owns in Duchesne County. The money used to pay the in-lieu tax is mainly provided by hunters and anglers in the county and across the state. In 2023, the Division of Wildlife Resources purchased a parcel of land incorporated into the Division's Tabby Mountain Wildlife Management Area. The parcel will be managed for hunting access and big game winter range habitat. The Division's purchase of this 160-acre parcel from private ownership has increased the in-lieu payment by $80.00.

Mr. Hanberg also presented a handout of Utah's Watershed Restoration Initiative. For the fiscal year 2023, 101 projects were completed, 262 stream miles were improved, 148,883 total acres were restored, $37 million total funding was invested, 86+ funding partners, 644 estimated jobs were created, and $90 million total economic output. Discussion & Consideration of Seasonal Road Closures on Tabby Mountain WMA
(9:36 a.m.)

Utah Department of Natural Resources Habitat Program Manager Pat Rainbolt presented the Tabby Mountain Wildlife Management Area (WMA) Seasonal Travel Restriction Program 2024 Progress Report. The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources (UDWR) completed winter elk helicopter surveys on the Currant Creek sub-unit in February 2022. The survey is completed once every three years to help biologists track elk population trends and provide a relative estimate of elk abundance. The number of elk counted does not indicate the total population since not every elk is observed during the helicopter survey.

A total of 3,273 elk were observed on the Current Creek sub-unit. The sub-unit extends west from Duchesne to Strawberry Valley and south from the Duchesne River to the Strawberry River. Elk numbers and locations were recorded with GPS technology. UDWR has 40 elk in the Current Creek sub-unit with GPS collars, and 32 were on the Tabby Mountain WMA. The Tabby Mountain WMA had 2,403 of the counted elk. This is a significant portion of the Current Creek elk population, at 73% of counted elk living on the WMA.

The Current Creek sub-unit is approximately 430,880 acres. The Tabby Mountain WMA is 46,925 acres. The WMA represents 11% of the surface area of the Current Creek sub-unit. However, it contained 73% of the wintering elk population. The high elk use of the WMA can be attributed to a few factors, possibly including: 1.) The WMA contains high-quality winter habitat for elk, and 2.) Reduced human presence and activity, especially vehicular activity, has resulted in an area where elk feel safe and not forced to look for other hiding areas.

UDWR Wildlife Biologists' Mule deer classification in November and December 2023 revealed 40% of Mule deer on the unit were on the Tabby Mountain WMA.

Commissioner Killian made a motion to continue the road closures from December 1st through April 30th on the Tabby Mountain WMA. Commissioner Hansen seconded the motion. Commissioner Killian voted aye, and Commissioner Hansen voted aye. The motion passed.
