

GRAMA Claim of Business Confidentiality

Pursuant to Utah Code Section 63G-2-305(1) and (2), and in accordance with Section 63G-2-309, Boojum Med (company name) asserts a claim of business confidentiality to protect the following information submitted as part of a Request for Proposals.

- non-public financial statements
- specific employee name and contact information
- specific customer information, client lists, or subscription lists
- other (specify):

Private and proprietary information

This claim is asserted because this information requires protection as it includes:

trade secrets as defined in Utah Code Section 13-24-2 ("Trade secret" means information, including a formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique, or process, that: (a) derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to, and not being readily ascertainable by proper means by, other persons who can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use; and (b) is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy.)

commercial information or non-individual financial information obtained from a person if: (a) disclosure of the information could reasonably be expected to result in unfair competitive injury to the person submitting the information or would impair the ability of the governmental entity to obtain necessary information in the future; [and] (b) the person submitting the information has a greater interest in prohibiting access than the public in obtaining access.

Following is a concise statement of reasons supporting the claim of business confidentiality:

The information has been redacted to keep our personal information private and for the safety and security of our facility and employees. Our extensive research on how the cannabis plant and the cannabinoid molecules interact with the human body has enhanced the efficacy of our products and continues to inform our evolving and proprietary lab processes and facility procedures. Our internal research and development and subsequent facility implementation is considered confidential and a trade secret as defined in Utah Code Section 13-24-2. All renewal information that could potentially create an unfair competitive injury to our business, or create a safety concern for our team has been redacted.
