BUSINESS OF ADMINISTRATION AND STAFF

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

○ Operations Report

Brandie Evans provided the Operations Report. She reported that the wellness committee met earlier this month and focused on the Triennial Assessment tool, the Policy Review and updates, and the Upcoming initiatives to further promote wellness. She reported some of the feedback they received from the survey that the wellness committee sent out. The wellness committee will meet one more time to review the policy and make plans for next year. Brandie also reported attending last month's USBE Prepare Workshop for school safety. This was focused on school crisis intervention, prevention, and response. This included emergency response plans. One of the things they have learned the most is that everyone has a role and that role in an emergency response plan, and that role needs to be defined. They also discussed things like anxiety since covid and how they can help students cope. They would like to have all the counselors attend this conference next year. The school will have monthly trainings with staff to help standardize response protocol etc. The board asked if there was a piece of the protocol that pushes notifications to parents in the case of an emergency. They are working on setting up templates for different scenarios. They want to speed the process up so that the communication goes out as quickly as possible. They would like to standardize this process. They talked about contingency plans for communication. Brandie discussed the new video camera software to detect firearms. She discussed some of the drawbacks to going through the state approved company. The grant would cover 4 cameras for 1 year, but the school would be required to sign a 5-year contract. They have to go through the state approved company, or the grant won't cover it. She discussed the designated caregiver that the legislation has decided each school needs. She voiced some of the concerns that go along with this. Brandie and Priscilla suggest that they do the threat assessment and just wait to see what kinks are worked out regarding this new legislation. Brandie discussed the Religion Education Policy previously in the meeting. She discussed that the school's first A/R Review for the National School Lunch Program is next week. They have been working with LunchPro for the last two months to prepare for this review. They will be at the school for a full 2 days for the review. The school would like to hold onto the excess bond fund money for a couple of months and see where the rest of the funds are needed. They walked around with the facilities management guy to try and cover maintenance issues. The school had both kindergarten and Jr high orientation with cute little swag bags. They are holding enrollment interest meetings every month now. They are refining and retooling these meetings. The enrollment is at 988 students. They are currently working with students to finalize intent to returns for next year. They are only waiting on 89 students to complete the intent to return forms.

- Education Report

Priscilla provided the education report. She reported that the K-3 curriculum committee is meeting again. They are coming up with a proposal for a curriculum for literacy next year. The school is looking to supplement the early learning piece. They are deciding between reading horizons and Ufly. Alisha Johnson reported that Davis School District approved CKLA. Priscilla reported that on the 15th they had professional development for staff. They focused on the 180-day plans, formative and summative assessments, and preparing for the end of level testing. She reported on the character education. The focus for this month is developing practical wisdom. They had the Utah Shakespeare festival come in today and perform part of Hamlet. They made it interactive for the kids and the kids really loved it. They received lots of good feedback. They discussed some of the comments and discussion that were had with kids about this event.
