2. Vote: Recommendation for SSLPD improvement
 - Board Chair Glad made a motion to approve the recommendation, however City Attorney Brie Brass advised the Board that the recommendation needed to be published on the city website before the vote was called. Board Chair Glad then tabled this item for the next meeting.
3. Information: Night Out Against Crime
 - Board Chair Glad reminded the board that Night Out Against Crime is on August 6 and asked the board to please be there and participate.
4. Board Members Round Table Discussion – Starting from the East, for each board member

Board Member Conrad Campos made the observation that there were many holes in the reviews, and prompted other board members to make sure they were keeping up on cases.

Board Member Campos noted that he appreciated the article that SSLPD Chief Danielle Croyle sent and felt he learned a lot from it. He reminded the board that their charter is to review police actions of force, and to remember that they only get a one-dimensional picture. He then encouraged board members to read the article the Chief sent. Board Member Jason Keffer commented that he also read the article but didn't feel he benefited from the article, but appreciated what Board Member Zac Barnes sent as well that called into question the credibility of Force Science. Board Member Keffer then had a lengthy discussion on the article.

Deputy Chief Cram clarified that the purpose of the article being sent was for training and to explain the physiology in the body that should be considered when viewing an officer's body cam. (See below for article link).

Board Chair Glad noted that the Fourth of July is almost here, and reminded the board to be at the parade at 9:15 a.m. and the flag ceremony is at 9:30 a.m., and proceeded to go over the plans for the parade and the day.

Board Chair Glad advised the board that actions are being watched by other people, and to make sure members are doing their ride-along, reading the cases, and reminded them that they will be held accountable.
