The F-150 pick-up has been the best-selling vehicle since the beginning of time. One thing that keeps them going, is that they hold their value very well, and they are a good investment, from a vehicle perspective. The F-150 ranks in our Top 10 models in years 3 and 5, but trails the Silverado as more goes by. However, the results are so close, that the choice between Ford and Chevy should be based upon other factors, and not just value retention. Half-ton pick-ups hold their value extremely well, and the F-150 is no exception.

The chart below shows the expected depreciation for the next 10 years. These results are for vehicles in good condition, averaging 12,000 miles per year. It also assumes a selling price of $61,927 when new. Enter your purchase price, expected ownership period and estimated miles driven annually. Our depreciation calculator will predict an expected resale value for the Ford F-150.
