Business Administrator's Report

Business Administrator Todd Hess presented his report on the monthly budget.
He also reported on the ASBO Conference he was able to attend in Nashville, TN.

Superintendent's Report

The following schools presented their 2024-2025 school goals:

- Principal Danni Brown and Assistant Principal Nina Strother from North Elementary
- Principal Jerry Oldroyd and Assistant Principal Jeanette Putnam from South Elementary, along with Language Arts Coach Nicole Yamamoto and Instructional Coach Megan Cottam, who discussed goals in language arts and math
- Principal Trevor Heaton and Literacy Coach Angie Benson from Parowan Elementary

Board Member Report

Mrs. Christiansen spoke of her visit to Parowan Elementary School and commended Principal Heaton for the culture that he has created there. She pointed out the lack of space and the need for a portable to provide more classrooms. Overall, she indicated she was very impressed with the school. She attended Opening Institute and Back to School Night where she had the opportunity to educate people about the proposed bond. She also mentioned a meeting she had with Sara McAfee, Elementary STEM Coordinator, about the possibility of implementing a gifted program in schools.

Mr. Staheli expressed his gratitude to Superintendent Hatch for organizing the Constitution events at Parowan, Canyon View, and Cedar High Schools. He highlighted how the music, readings, and examples were both moving and impactful. Mr. Staheli also mentioned that these programs helped to dispel some of the misconceptions about the public school system, and he shared his hope that this becomes a lasting tradition in the district. Additionally, he thanked everyone for their patience with him during this busy time of year, noting the challenges of travel and other commitments.

President Johnson echoed Mr. Staheli's comments about the Constitution event and emphasized how special it was to see community members who served in the military recognized. He expressed his gratitude to the board members for attending back to school night. It was enlightening to talk with community members about the importance of the tax increase to secure matching funds and discuss the bonds. He noted there is a lot of misinformation circulating, and he encouraged people to seek out the facts regarding our schools. President Johnson highlighted the SMART goals presented by all the schools, commending the thought and effort that went into them. Additionally, he mentioned his involvement in Cedar's economic development meetings, where they have been addressing the challenges of growth and overcrowded schools. He hopes the community is aware of the significant hurdles the district is facing.
