c. A.D.

The Committee discussed the complaint from A.D. Stephen Stocks is the subject of the complaint and he recused himself from the discussion. Stephen Stocks did let the committee know that the case is heading towards a resolution and the No Contact Order has since been modified. Vanessa Justesen does not think there is a violation as a prosecutor has the ability to put and keep pretrial protective orders in place for the safety of the community. Stephen Stocks urged the Committee to review her statements about how she was treated and move forward to give her an opportunity to be heard. Shelley Wright points out that the victim may be having a trauma response and not heard what Stephen was saying. Shelley thinks it would be helpful to have her explain what she was hearing. Keri Jensen asked a question about the process. Andrea Noyes clarified that we are not finding a violation at this point, but just looking for additional insight and information.

Motion: Tyson Huntington made a motion that we move forward with the complaint and invite the victim and subject to the next meeting. Keri Jensen seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously. None were opposed. Stephen Stocks abstained from voting.

Action Items: Andrea Noyes will prepare letters for the victim and the subject requesting additional information. Katie Fox will send the letters and invite the victim and the subject to the next meeting.

d. J.M.

The Committee discussed the complaint from J.M. Keri JENSEN is abstaining from voting on this complaint. Keri Jensen told the Committee that she has been in contact with this victim's daughter. There were difficulties for this victim to remain in contact with the family members who had retained counsel for this case. Vanessa Justesen pointed out that it can be difficult in homicide cases because victims want answers that law enforcement and prosecutors can not always give. Vanessa Justesen said that it is common practice to ask for a family representative to be appointed in homicide cases. Stephen Stocks pointed out that it is always good to have a clear understanding of who the supervisor of the victim advocate may be. The Committee suggested language that may be helpful to have in a letter explaining the Committee's decision.

Motion: Shelley Wright made a motion to find that there is not a violation but to provide the additional language in the letter to the victim. Stephen Stocks seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously. None were opposed. Keri Jensen abstained from voting.

Action Items: Andrea Noyes will prepare a letter to the victim and include the suggested language of thanking the victim for submitting the complaint and letting them know that while the complaint may not be a victim rights violation, it will be brought to the attention of the agency involved and will be utilized to improve the criminal justice process for all victims. Andrea Noyes will also prepare a letter for the subject of the complaint encouraging best practices when dealing with victims who are struggling. Katie Fox will send the letters to the victim and the subject. Katie Fox will offer services to the victim.

	employed with them. Andrea Noyes will also prepare a letter for the agency who employed the subject of the complaint letting them know of the violation. Katie Fox will send the letters to the victim and the agency who employed the subject. Katie Fox will offer resources to the victim.
