- (m) Other activities that are integral to the purchase and distribution of the Securities and activities integral to fulfilling the role of a placement agent or underwriter including under the antifraud provisions of the federal securities laws and the obligations of Piper Sandler under MSRB rules.

4. Representations, Warranties and Agreements of the Issuer.

You represent and warrant to, and agree with us, that:

- (a) the Securities will be sold by you in compliance with the requirements for exemptions from registration or qualification of, and otherwise in accordance with, all federal and state securities laws and regulations;

and will provide access to your officers, directors, employees, accountants, counsel and other representatives and will provide each purchaser and us opportunities to ask questions and receive answers from these persons; it being understood that we and each purchaser will rely solely upon such information supplied by you and your representatives without assuming any responsibility for independent investigation or verification thereof; and

- (e) On the Closing Date, you will deliver or cause to be delivered to us an Opinion of Bond Counsel to you, dated the Closing Date relating to: the validity of the Securities; exemption from registration and qualification under federal and state securities law; and if applicable the tax-exempt status of the Securities, together with a reliance letter from such counsel, dated the Closing Date and addressed to us and in a form acceptable to us.

5. Other Matters Relating to Our Engagement. The parties agree that we are not making a final commitment to underwrite or place securities until certain events have occurred including among other things, a successful authorizing bond election, satisfactory completion and execution of all final documentation for an offering including all terms and conditions and credit approval by Piper Sandler's internal credit approval process. This Agreement is therefore not a final commitment by us express or implied, to underwrite, place or purchase any securities. If you elect to conduct a public offering of the Securities, you and Piper Sandler will enter into a definitive bond purchase agreement which shall supersede the provisions of this agreement in any conflicting respects, except that the parties agree that the fee provisions set forth in Section 3 will continue to apply.

You acknowledge that you have retained us solely to provide the services to you as set forth in this agreement. As underwriter or placement agent, Piper Sandler may provide advice concerning the structure, timing, terms, and other similar matters concerning the transaction. You acknowledge and agree that: (i) the primary role of Piper Sandler as an underwriter or placement agent, is to sell or place securities to investors in an arms-length commercial transaction and that Piper Sandler has financial and other interests that differ from your interests (ii) Piper Sandler is not acting as a municipal advisor, financial advisor or fiduciary to you or any other person or entity and has not assumed any advisory or fiduciary responsibility to you with respect to the transaction contemplated herein and the discussions, undertakings and proceedings leading thereto (irrespective of whether Piper Sandler has provided other services or is currently providing other services to you on other matters) (iii) the only obligations Piper Sandler has to you with respect to the transaction contemplated hereby expressly are set forth in this agreement and (iv) you have consulted your own legal, accounting, tax, financial and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent deemed appropriate in connection with the transaction contemplated herein.

time because of this engagement. We may be required to send you additional disclosures regarding the material financial characteristics and risks of such transaction or describing those conflicts. At that time, we also will seek your acknowledgement of receipt of any such additional disclosures. If our understanding is incorrect, please notify the undersigned immediately.

7. Termination. You or we may terminate our engagement under this agreement, with or without cause, upon ten days' written notice to the other party. The fee, expense reimbursement, your representations, warranties and agreements, and miscellaneous provisions of this agreement will survive any termination of our engagement under this agreement.

Appendix A – G-17 Disclosure

Thank you for engaging Piper Sandler & Co. (“Piper Sandler”) to serve as your underwriter. We are writing to provide you with certain disclosures relating to the captioned bond issue (Securities), as required by Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (MSRB) Rule G-17 as set forth in MSRB Notice 2019-20 (Nov. 8, 2019).¹

Piper Sandler & Co. intends to serve as an underwriter, and not as a financial advisor or municipal advisor, in connection with the issuance of the Securities. As part of our underwriting services, we may provide advice concerning the structure, timing, terms, and other similar matters concerning the issuance of the Securities.

The following G-17 conflict of interest disclosures are now broken down into three types, including: 1) dealer-specific conflicts of interest disclosures (if applicable); 2) transaction-specific disclosures (if applicable); and 3) standard disclosures.

Dealer-Specific Conflicts of Interest Disclosures

Piper Sandler has not identified any actual or potential material conflicts of interest.

Transaction-Specific Disclosures

- Disclosures Concerning Complex Municipal Securities Financing:
 - Since we have recommended to the Issuer/Obligor a financing structure that may be a “complex municipal securities financing” for purposes of MSRB Rule G-17, attached is a description of the material financial characteristics of that financing structure as well as the material financial risks of the financing that are known to us and reasonably foreseeable at this time.

Standard Disclosures

- Disclosures Concerning the Underwriters’ Role:
 - MSRB Rule G-17 requires an underwriter to deal fairly at all times with both issuers and investors.
 - The underwriters’ primary role is to purchase the Securities with a view to distribution in an arm’s-length commercial transaction with the Issuer. The underwriters have financial and other interests that differ from those of the Issuer.
 - Unlike a municipal advisor, an underwriter does not have a fiduciary duty to the Issuer under the federal securities laws and is, therefore, not required by federal law to act in the best interests of the Issuer without regard to its own financial or other interests.
 - The Issuer may choose to engage the services of a municipal advisor with a fiduciary obligation to represent the Issuer’s interest in this transaction.
 - The underwriters have a duty to purchase the Securities from the Issuer at a fair and reasonable price but must balance that duty with their duty to sell the Securities to investors at prices that are fair and reasonable.

¹ Revised Interpretive Notice Concerning the Application of MSRB Rule G-17 to Underwriters of Municipal Securities (effective Mar. 31, 2021).

- The underwriters will review the official statement for the Securities in accordance with, and a part of, their respective responsibilities to investors under the federal securities laws, as applied to the facts and circumstances of this transaction.²
- Disclosures Concerning the Underwriters' Compensation:
 - The underwriters will be compensated by a fee and/or an underwriting discount that will be set forth in the bond purchase agreement to be negotiated and entered into in connection with the issuance of the Securities. Payment or receipt of the underwriting fee or discount will be contingent on the closing of the transaction and the amount of the fee or discount may be based, in whole or in part, on a percentage of the principal amount of the Securities. While this form of compensation is customary in the municipal securities market, it presents a conflict of interest since the underwriters may have an incentive to recommend to the Issuer a transaction that is unnecessary or to recommend that the size of the transaction be larger than is necessary.

If you or any other Issuer officials have any questions or concerns about these disclosures, please make those questions or concerns known immediately to the undersigned. In addition, you should consult with the Issuer's own financial and/or municipal, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent you deem appropriate.

Please note that nothing in this letter should be viewed as a commitment by the underwriters to purchase or sell all the Securities and any such commitment will only exist upon the execution of any bond purchase agreement or similar agreement and then only in accordance with the terms and conditions thereof.

You have been identified by the Issuer as a primary contact for the Issuer's receipt of these disclosures, and that you are not a party to any disclosed conflict of interest relating to the subject transaction. If our understanding is incorrect, please notify the undersigned immediately. We are required to seek your acknowledgement that you have received this letter. Accordingly, please send me an email to that effect, or sign and return the enclosed copy of this letter to me at the address set forth above. Otherwise, an email read receipt from you or automatic response confirming that our email was opened by you will serve as an acknowledgment that you received these disclosures.

Depending on the structure of the transaction that the Issuer decides to pursue, or if additional actual or potential material conflicts are identified, we may be required to send you additional disclosures regarding the material financial characteristics and risks of such transaction and/or describing those conflicts. At that time, we also will seek your acknowledgement of receipt of any such additional disclosures.

² Under federal securities law, an issuer of securities has the primary responsibility for disclosure to investors. The review of the official statement by the underwriters is solely for purposes of satisfying the underwriters' obligations under the federal securities laws and such review should not be construed by an issuer as a guarantee of the accuracy or completeness of the information in the official statement.

Appendix B – Capital Appreciation Bonds

The following is a general description of the financial characteristics of Capital Appreciation Bonds (CABs), as well as a general description of certain financial risks that are known to us and reasonably foreseeable at this time and that you should consider before deciding whether to issue CABs. If you have any questions or concerns about these disclosures, please make those questions or concerns known immediately to us. In addition, you should consult with your financial and/or municipal, legal, accounting, tax, and other advisors, as applicable, to the extent you deem appropriate.

Financial Characteristics

CABs are bonds that are typically sold at a price less than their par amount (i.e., an “original issue discount”). The difference between the sales price and the par amount is considered the original issue discount. CABs typically do not pay interest periodically like traditional Current Interest Bonds (“CIBs”), but rather pay interest only at maturity. CABs accrete in value at a stated yield as interest accrues, regardless of the current market rate. At maturity, investors receive an amount equal to the initial principal invested plus the interest earned, compounded at the stated yield.

[Convertible CABs are a hybrid structure in which the bonds accrete in value while in the CAB mode and then pay annual principal and semi-annual interest as a traditional CIB after the conversion date. The interest and principal paid after the conversion date is based on the accreted value of the bonds at the conversion date instead of the original par value.]

CABs may be attractive to issuers because they defer debt service payments until maturity and relieve pressure on an issuer’s annual debt service budget. They may also allow issuers to smooth out debt service payments in their annual budgets by issuing CABs structured or scheduled to mature in years in which other series of bonds do not mature, or in the years between the last serial bond and the start of mandatory term bond calls.

Financial Risk Considerations

Certain risks may arise in connection with your issuance of CABs, including some or all the following (generally, the obligor, rather than the issuer, will bear these risks for conduit revenue bonds):

Issuer Default Risk. Depending on how the CABs are structured, the maturity value may be a substantial amount. You may be in default if the funds pledged to secure your CABs are not enough to pay debt service on the CABs when due. The consequences of a default may be serious for you and, depending on applicable state law and the terms of the authorizing documents, the holders of the bonds, the trustee and any credit support provider may be able to exercise a range of available remedies against you. For example, if the CABs are secured by a general obligation pledge, you may be ordered by a court to raise taxes. Other budgetary adjustments also may be necessary to enable you to provide sufficient funds to pay debt service on the CABs. If the bonds are revenue bonds, you may be required to take steps to increase the available revenues that are pledged as security for the bonds. A default may negatively impact your credit ratings and may effectively limit your ability to publicly offer bonds or other securities at market interest rate levels. Further, if you are unable to provide sufficient funds to remedy the default, subject to applicable state law and the terms of the authorizing documents, you may find it necessary to consider available alternatives under state law, including (for some issuers) state-mandated receivership or bankruptcy. A default also may occur if you are unable to comply with covenants or other provisions agreed to in connection with the issuance of the bonds.

This description is only a summary of issues relating to defaults and is not intended as legal advice. You should consult with your bond counsel for further information regarding defaults and remedies.

Redemption Risk. Your ability to redeem the CABs prior to maturity may be limited, depending on the terms of any optional redemption provisions. [ADD IF OPTION PROVIDED: Although we expect that the CABs will be issued with a right of the Issuer to optionally redeem them prior to maturity.] CABs are generally not subject to optional redemption by issuers until the maturity date thereof. If interest rates in the market decline, you may be unable to take advantage of the lower interest rates to reduce debt service if the CABs cannot be redeemed.

Refinancing Risk. If your financing plan contemplates refinancing some or all the CABs at maturity, market conditions or changes in law may limit or prevent you from refinancing those CABs when required. Further, limitations in the federal tax rules on advance refunding of bonds (an advance refunding of bonds occurs when tax-exempt bonds are refunded more than 90 days prior to the date on which those bonds may be retired) may restrict your ability to refund the CABs to take advantage of lower interest rates.

Interest Rate Penalty. While CABs may allow you to defer interest payments until maturity of the bond, investors require significantly higher yield to forgo traditional semi-annual interest payments. The higher yields [, together with the potential of reduced flexibility to optionally redeem the CABs prior to maturity,] may result in higher total debt costs than if you had issued CIBs. This may be exacerbated if the financial assumptions underlying the issuance of CABs are ultimately incorrect.

Interest Payment Deferral. As the interest rates on CABs is generally higher than CIBs and accretes over the life of the CABs, you must prepare for an even higher debt service that will be due and payable at the stated maturity of CABs. Rather than paying the remaining principal and the final semi-annual coupon payment at maturity for traditional long-term fixed rate bonds, you will be required to pay all the principal and all of the interest that will have compounded from the issuance date through maturity. Convertible CABs carry the inherent risk that, upon conversion from CABs to CIBs, the CIBs will require semi-annual interest payments.

Limited Investor Base. Due to the unique characteristics of CABs, there may be a limited universe of potential investors. This could lead the underwriters to have difficulty selling the CABs, and which could result in higher yields and higher total debt costs. Additionally, you should consider that CABs may price at a substantial yield concession to current interest fixed rate bonds as investors value the structure relative to other product alternatives.

Reinvestment Risk. You may have proceeds of the CABs to invest prior to the time that you are able to spend those proceeds for the authorized purpose. Depending on market conditions, you may not be able to invest those proceeds at or near the yield on the CABs, which is referred to as “negative arbitrage.”

Tax Compliance Risk. The issuance of tax-exempt bonds is subject to several requirements under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, as enforced by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). You must take certain steps and make certain representations prior to the issuance of tax-exempt bonds. You also must covenant to take certain additional actions after issuance of tax-exempt bonds. A breach of your representations or your failure to comply with certain tax-related covenants may cause the interest on the CABs (if issued as tax-exempt obligations) to become taxable retroactively to the date of issuance of the CABs, which may result in an increase in the interest rate that you pay on the CABs. The IRS also may audit you or your CABs or other bonds, in some cases on a random basis and in other cases targeted to specific types of bond issues or tax concerns. If the CABs are declared taxable, or if you are subject to audit, you may be unable to remarket or refinance the CABs. Further, your ability to issue other tax-exempt bonds also may be limited.

This description of tax compliance risks is not intended as legal advice and you should consult with your bond counsel regarding the tax implications of issuing CABs.

Cash Flow Structure of the Bonds and the Risk of Compounding Interest. The Bonds are expected to possess a “cash flow” structure, meaning that no regularly scheduled principal payments are due prior to the maturity date, and interest payments not paid when due will accrue and compound until sufficient Pledged Revenue is available for payment. To the extent your cash flow is insufficient to pay interest when due on the Bonds, the unpaid interest will compound. Compounding could substantially increase your overall debt burden.
