CONSIDERATION OF FUNDING REQUESTS:

Destination Development

Washington City is seeking $150,000 to construct the George Washington Plaza. With America's 250th anniversary approaching, the city plans to transform the space into a park that tells the story of Dixie and honors the founding fathers. The park will feature pathways highlighting the history of Washington County and the United States, including a life-size statue of George Washington as its centerpiece.

MOTION: Motion by Nate Wells to approve up to $150,000 in TRCC funds to fund construction of the plaza.
Motion seconded by Kevin Smith and carried by unanimous vote.

Washington City is seeking $500,000 to construct 1.5 miles of the Washington City Historic Canal Trail. This trail is part of a planned 6.5-mile route that follows the canal, serving as a key north-south connection. Once completed, it will link to the Virgin River Trail and Washington Wheels Park, further enhancing the city's trail network. The project is being completed in phases, approximately 1.3 miles have already been completed.

MOTION: Motion by Kevin Smith to approve up to $250,000 in TRCC funds and up to $250,000 in TRT funds for construction of 1.5 miles of the Washington Canal paved trail.
Motion seconded by Shane Wittwer and carried by unanimous vote.

Hurricane City is seeking $15,000 to finish constructing its bike park on 600 N. in the Spilsbury Sports Complex. The idea for the expansion was introduced by local BMX professional Tyler McCall, who has secured a $25,000 grant to contribute to the project. The bike park is already a popular spot for local riders, and the proposed improvements will introduce new features to accommodate riders of various skill levels.

MOTION: Motion by Shayne Wittwer to approve up to $15,000 in TRCC funds for construction of the Hurricane City Bike Park.
Motion seconded by Ken Neilson and carried by unanimous vote.

Hurricane City is seeking $2,000,000 to renovate its city pool, which was initially built in the 1990s. The current five-lane outdoor pool is primarily used as a practice facility for the local swim team, but the city plans to expand it to eight lanes to accommodate competitive swim meets. The renovation will also include the addition of grandstands for spectator seating. The project is expected to take 14 months, with construction set to begin as soon as the current swim season concludes.

MOTION: Motion by Zac Nixon to table the decision for further discussion.
Motion seconded by Kevin Smith and carried by unanimous vote.
