Policy Statement

In fulfilling the mission of Salt Lake County Library (the County Library), technology is employed within library buildings to allow patrons access to computers and the internet for information, databases, software, and other services. Patrons are encouraged to take full advantage of the library's computers and the internet while exercising good judgement and discretion in their use of these valuable resources. Parents and legal guardians are responsible for monitoring their minor child's access to the library's computers and to the resources available on the internet. The County Library is in compliance with all state and federal laws regarding patron records and information, as well as the Children's Internet Protection Act (CIPA).

The policy of the Salt Lake County Library Board is to promote a safe internet environment for patrons. Pursuant to Utah Code Annotated \(UCA\) 9-7-215 the County Library employs a technology protection measure on all publicly accessible computers connected to the internet and on the wireless internet connection that is designed to block or filter visual depictions that are: I) child pornography, II) harmful to minors; or III) obscene; without, in as much as possible, infringing on the rights of patron's access to constitutionally protected materials. Individuals may not use email, chatroom, social media, or other electronic communications to view sexually explicit material, or use other technology to defeat the filter.

Library patrons shall not use library computers or its wireless network(s) to violate any law, including those against hacking, spamming, and gambling. Further, the Board has approved filtering all publicly accessible internet computers and wireless internet access for online gambling in accordance with Utah Code Annotated \(UCA\) 76-10-1102 which establishes that gambling in any form is a class B misdemeanor.

Anyone who is found to have used County Library computers or wireless connection to access materials in violation of this policy may be subject to loss of County Library privileges and appropriate legal action. County Library staff violating this policy will also be subject to disciplinary action.

Patrons are not permitted to install programs or upload/download software or information to the publicly accessible computers from personal flash drives, CDs, CD-ROMs or the internet.

Unauthorized access to the County Library's computers, peripherals, software or a database is not permitted. Anyone attempting such unauthorized access or who acquires unauthorized access to any computer, software or peripherals or who damages any County Library property may lose all County Library privileges. Violators may also be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. This policy applies to County Library staff and to the public.

To ensure equitable access to the use of the County Library's public computers and best manage capacity and demand, computer use may be limited by location depending on the demand for public computers at individual libraries. Extension of computer time may be granted with an override by library staff at their discretion and when another patron is not waiting for a computer.
