All,

Please see attached Commission Reports.

A couple of things to note:

Property Tax Notices are going out on Monday, October 13, 2025.

I have emailed Jones & DeMille & Sunrise Engineering because I noticed that the deficit in Fund 45 is quite high. I'm looking for reimbursement requests. Just FYI.

Keri, Jesse and I had a meeting with Curtis Koch and John Ulibarri last Friday, and MCAT revenue was brought up. This revenue comes from the State of Utah Auditor's Office. We have been in contact with their office off and on since April 2025. This affects Fund 33. UAC is going to start helping us find out where our revenue is, and when it will be released to us.

If you have any questions, please come visit me in my office and I'll be happy to explain.

Thanks,

Brianne Carter

September 21, 2025

Dear Commissioner:

This past year has seen a great transition from a hostile Biden Administration to an energetic and supportive Trump Administration in terms of natural resources, environmental and public lands policies.

From livestock grazing, mining, oil, gas and all forms of energy development, the enthusiasm for sound development is unprecedented. Working closely with the Uranium Producers of America to promote domestic mining, I see the Administration's efforts to open up federal lands and to reform onerous environmental regulations, including NEPA, to be very encouraging.

In the midst of all this I have been fortunate to be able to form a personal relationship with David Copley, Deputy National Security Advisor and Director of the President's Energy Dominance Council. Together, we are working to rework or eliminate Clinton, Obama and Biden Antiquities Act abuses in the form of the Grand Staircase Escalante, Bears Ears and the Baaj Nwaavjo I'tah Kukveni Grand Canyon National Monuments...all of which harmfully impact the economy of southern Utah and the national security of this nation.

Additionally, I am working closely with Karen Budd-Falen who serves as Associate Deputy Secretary of the Interior and Adam Suess, a former Sinclair Oil executive who serves in a key position for the public lands west as the Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary for Land and Minerals Management at the Department of the Interior.

I have opened up a solid relationship with Ned Mamula, who awaits Senate Confirmation as President Trump's Director of the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS). Ned is advising the Trump White House to make the boundary changes to the three primary National Monuments which are adversely impacting the counties of southern Utah and other public lands states.

My primary focus this year has been to gain Congressional approval of a three year (FY 2024, 2025, 2026) extension of the Secure Rural Schools (SRS)

National Forest Payments program which originated in 1908 as a binding commitment when President Theodore Roosevelt signed the National Forest Act promising all public lands counties and schools 25% of the revenues generated from those National Forests. This covenant is still valid and keeps rural public lands counties financially flush so they can advocate for active National Forest management which, simply stated, means cutting trees at levels which prevent fires and protect the economic and environmental health of rural communities.

To this end I organized two fly-ins to the capital city with county and education officials from 17 states. In August, I flew to Madison, Wisconsin in to meet with leaders of the Freedom Caucus to gain their support to endorse to the Speaker of the House of Representatives Mike Johnson (R-LA) and Majority Leader Steve Scalise (R-LA) passing SRS this month before the end of the FY 2025 fiscal year. I had recent meetings with White House Natural Resources Director Jason Becker who oversees Secretary of Agriculture Brook Rollins, and Deputy Secretary of Agriculture for Natural Resources, Kristen Sleeper who directs Forest Service Chief, Tom Shultz. Essentially, on behalf of all of you and the National Forest Counties and Schools Coalition, I am asking the Trump Administration to encourage the House Republican leaders to pass the 3-year SRS extension either as a stand-alone bill (Senator Mike Lee and Senator Ron Wyden prevailed upon Senate leaders to bring up and pass S. 356, the 3-year SRS extension unanimously in July), or to attach it as part of the must-pass Continuing Resolution (C.R.) in September, before the end of the 2025 fiscal year. Because SRS impacts your PILT payment as well, I will not back off of these efforts until the issue is resolved favorably for your county.

In sum, it is up to Speaker Mike Johnson and the GOP House to pass SRS; to make payments retroactive to FY 2024 so public lands counties and school districts receive the payment which is owed them under the 1908 National Forest Act as amended by the Secure Rural Schools and Community Self Determination Act of 2000. Like PILT, this is a binding federal commitment.

I continue to be honored to represent you working full time in the National Capital City on your behalf and am grateful for your continued support.

Sincerely,
