H. WORK SESSION (7:00 p.m.)

1. Two-Hour Parking in Historic Downtown

Staff Presentation:

Robert Mills discussed the newly renovated historic downtown area and a proposal for time restrictions on street parking. He introduced business owner Ty Jones who is also the president of Historic Downtown Non-Profit (aka: the Business Alliance). Ty presented data to city staff regarding how business owners on historic Main Street and Utah Avenue feel about enforcement of parking in those areas. Business owners expressed concerns that the area will no longer become inviting after all of the work put in to beautify the area. Ty also discussed that business owners expressed concerns for the lack of handicapped parking and stated that the 2-hour parking maximum could be restrictive for some businesses such as salons. Business owners asked if taxes would increase so that the city could enforce two-hour parking. Ty indicated that restaurants were indifferent to the enforcement of restricted parking times. He asked if the city would be willing to monitor the street for a week for their own data. Ty stated that some residents could see the value in restricted parking times so that more people can move in and out of the area but worried that members of the community would avoid the area and businesses because a citation may be issued.

Council Discussion:

Councilmember Christensen stated that he has seen vehicles park in front of the business and stay all day long. He expressed concerns about employees parking on the streets for 4–5 hour shifts and not leaving the street parking space for visitors. Councilmember Christensen discussed his justification for the discussion on downtown parking. Ty indicated that while collecting data, he encouraged businesses to have employees park elsewhere, like the back, rather than on the street. Mayor Wright and Councilmember Rowley thanked Ty for his work in collecting data.

Robert presented graphs that were sent in a recent survey to residents regarding limits to parking on Main Street and Utah Avenue. Robert discussed the importance of educating the public and possibly placing way-finding signs rather than enforcement. He stated that with some adjustments, the city can make improvements in that area without implementing police enforcement.

Councilmember Rowley stated that he feels that the city may be regulating problems that don't yet exist. He didn't want to encumber the town with a lot of signs or add weight to the police department's workforce and schedule. Councilmember Hulet stated that as larger parking lots are finished, residents in the area need to be more regulated and visitors could be more educated. Mayor Wright discussed the location of handicapped parking stalls near the library and other businesses. Robert agreed that education to business owners and employees would be beneficial for everyone. Councilmember Moss agreed with concerns that parking restrictions would make the area uninviting. Councilmember Hiatt discussed people parking the wrong way on Utah Avenue and hoped that clear traffic code violations would be enforced.

I. ADJOURNMENT

MOTION: Councilmember Rowley – To adjourn. Motion seconded by Councilmember Christensen. Those voting yes: Brett Christensen, Taresa Hiatt, Brian Hulet, Anne Moss, Ryan Rowley. The motion carried.
