

LAND USE ELEMENT

DRAFT

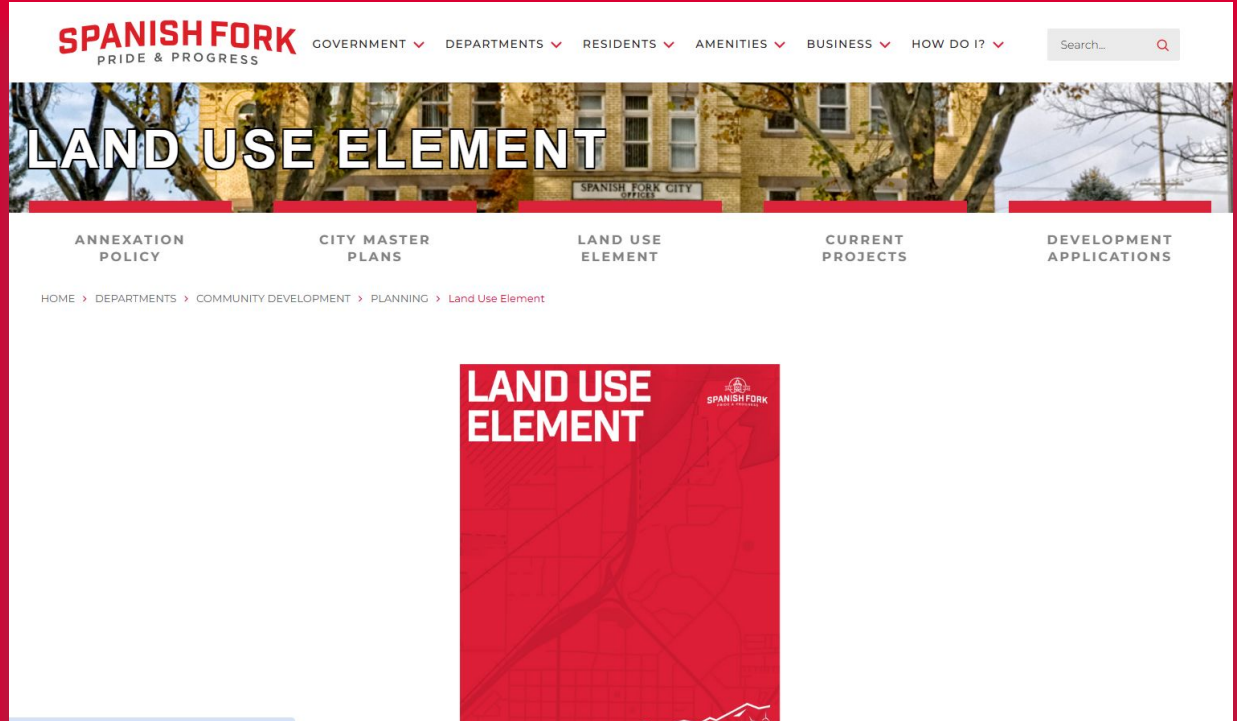

TODAY'S PROGRESS
Tomorrow's Pride

TODAY'S PROGRESS, Tomorrow's Pride

Today's Progress: making practical, forward-looking choices that support sustainable growth and opportunity.

Tomorrow's Pride: ensuring that growth enhances the city's character, preserves natural beauty, and strengthens the sense of place that defines Spanish Fork.

<https://www.spanishfork.gov/generalplan>

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT PROCESS:

Focus Groups = 35 stakeholders
Input on opportunities and threats with growth

Survey #1 = 3,176 responses
Public input on development priorities

The Chip Game = 88 stakeholders
Visualizing and understanding different growth scenarios in Spanish Fork

Survey #2 = 286 responses
Public feedback on growth scenarios

Next Steps

November 20. Go live with a webpage that provides detailed information on the draft and supporting material. The page will also contain a pdf of the draft and a portal to solicit stakeholders input on the draft.

November 20. Invite residents and specific stakeholder groups to review the information online and to provide their input via the portal. The Community Development Department is coordinating with Jack Urquhart to most effectively engage the community on the final opportunity to way in on the project.

December 3. Staff will present the draft in the Planning Commission meeting.

December 9. Staff will present the draft in the Council meeting.

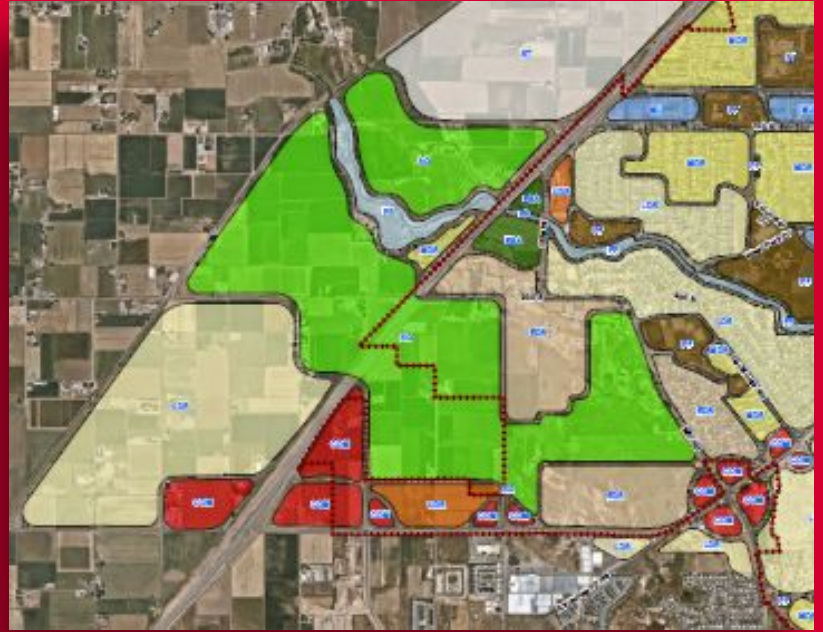

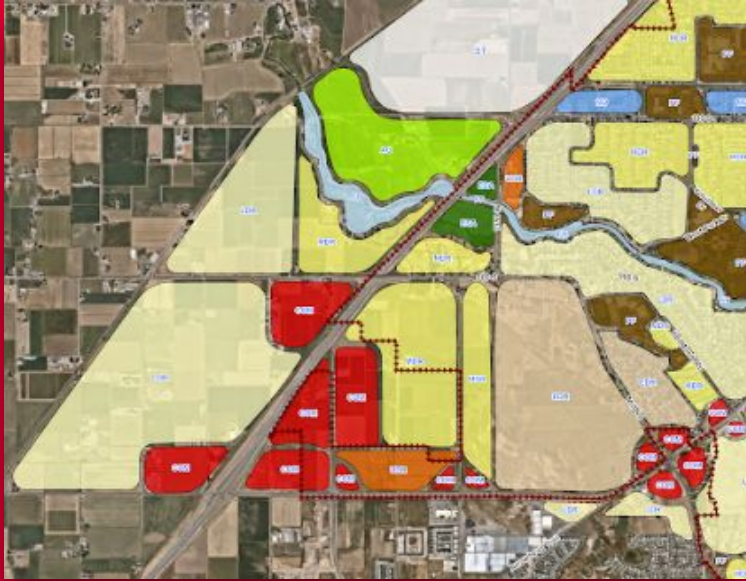

December 18. Close the public input portal and compile/catalog input. This will occur four weeks after the portal opened. Closing the portal at that time will provide adequate time to prepare the collected input for the Planning Commission and Council to review.

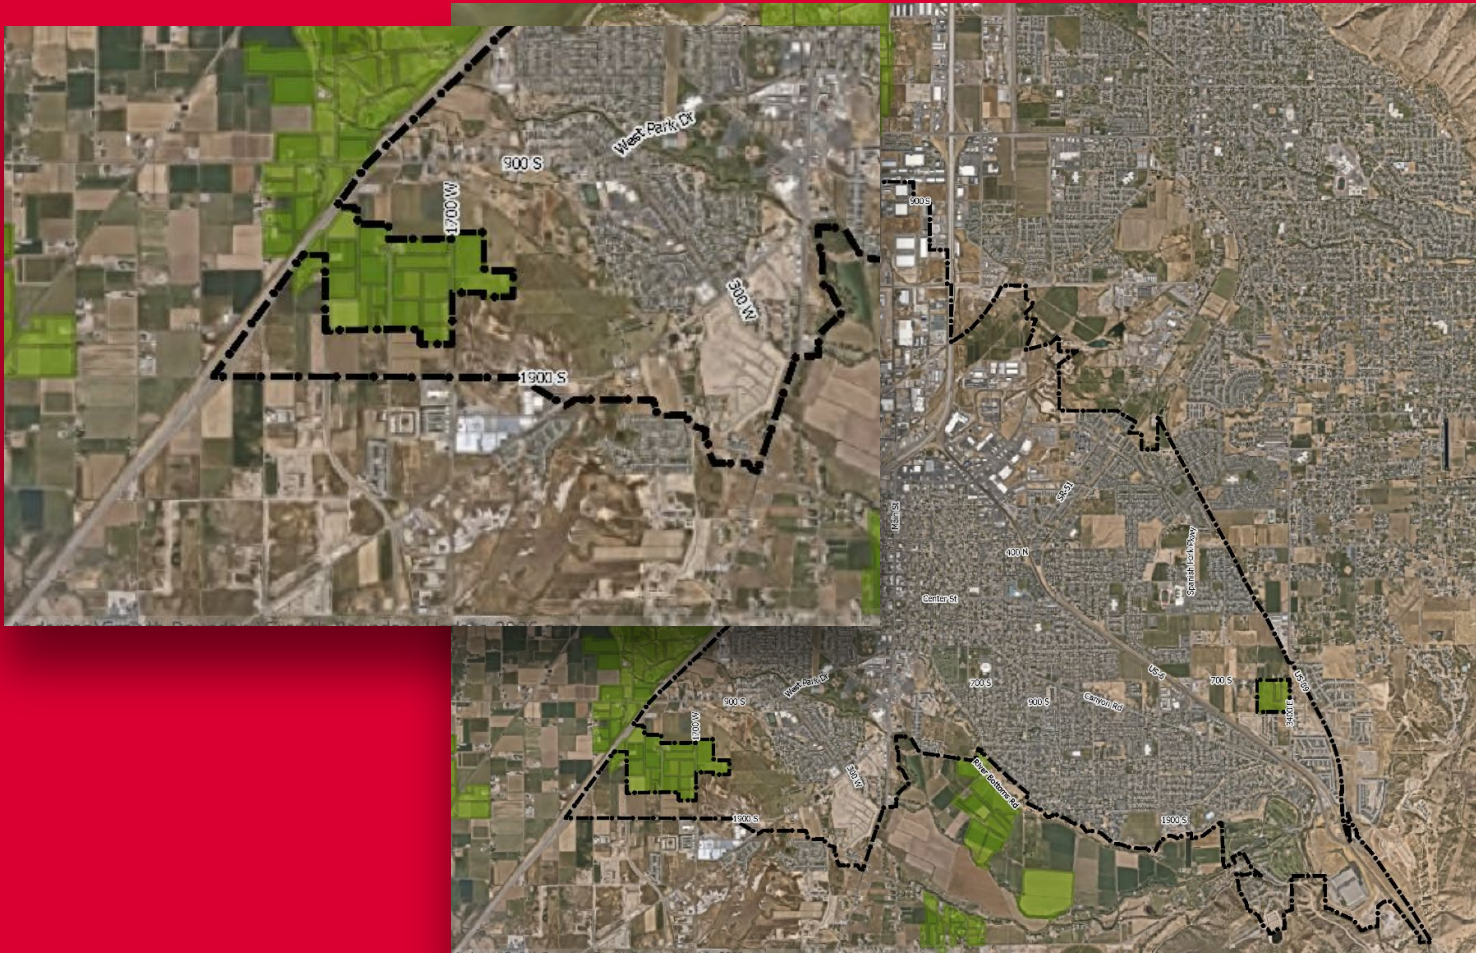

December 18. Send required notices for public hearings.

December 23. Provide review of input received on the proposed draft to the Commision and Council.

January 7. Hold a public hearing with the Planning Commission on the proposed draft.

January 13. Hold a public hearing with the City Council.

Next Steps

November 20. Go live with a webpage that provides detailed information on the draft and supporting material. The page will also contain a pdf of the draft and a portal to solicit stakeholders input on the draft.

November 20. Invite residents and specific stakeholder groups to review the information online and to provide their input via the portal. The Community Development Department is coordinating with Jack Urquhart to most effectively engage the community on the final opportunity to way in on the project.

December 3. Staff will present the draft in the Planning Commission meeting.

December 9. Staff will present the draft in the Council meeting.

December 18. Close the public input portal and compile/catalog input. This will occur four weeks after the portal opened. Closing the portal at that time will provide adequate time to prepare the collected input for the Planning Commission and Council to review.

December 18. Send required notices for public hearings.

December 23. Provide review of input received on the proposed draft to the Commision and Council.

January 7. Hold a public hearing with the Planning Commission on the proposed draft.

January 13. Hold a public hearing with the City Council.

