6. Action Items

a. Consideration of PW Truck Lease vs. Purchase

The Board and staff evaluated options for public works truck fleet management. Chris Wright presented two main scenarios: keeping one current truck (F-150) and selling the other (RAM), which would cost $127,000, or leasing two new trucks for approximately $120,000.

Duaine Dorton calculated that both options would result in significant costs, with the purchase option potentially leading to negative equity in three years. Stewart Olsen noted that the trucks were in good condition and suggested that keeping them might be more cost-effective, though the group was constrained by lease terms that limit their ability to sell the vehicles independently.

Duaine Dorton motion to keep the F-150, sell the RAM truck, and purchase a new vehicle for approximately $130,000, with funding to be placed in both the 2025 and 2026 budgets. Scott Hart seconded, none opposed. Motion passed.
