During the meeting, Robin Chait served as the main presenter, and a collective of our charter schools who participated in this mentorship network also presented and shared their experiences with the Board. Cohort one was nearing completion and reported on the successes and challenges they had experienced, as well as discussed plans for launching Cohort two.

At last month’s Board meeting, the updated charter agreements for Mountain Heights Academy, Providence Hall Charter School, Thomas Edison Charter School, and Wallace Stegner Academy were approved on the consent calendar. As suggested by the Authorizing Committee, each school had been invited to participate in a “Signing Day” Celebration and prepare a short presentation highlighting their best practices and successes. During the meeting, Mountain Heights Academy was present and signed their agreement in person, and a few members from Providence Hall Charter School were also in attendance. Thomas Edison Charter School and Wallace Stegner Academy elected to sign their agreements electronically.
