

UDOT seeks input on the Local Government and Public Participation Process for the update of the state's 2027 Long-Range Transportation Plan

Notice of Public Comment Period

The Utah Department of Transportation (UDOT) is requesting input on the Local Government and Public Participation Process (Participation Process) for the 2027 Long-Range Transportation Plan. Every four years, UDOT updates the Long-Range Transportation Plan to identify infrastructure needs for the next 25-30 years.

The Participation Process document outlines UDOT's approach for local government and public participation throughout the long-range transportation planning process. The document can be viewed online at: <https://publicinput.com/udotplanning>.

UDOT is holding a 60-day public comment period on the Participation Process from January 12, 2026, to March 13, 2026. Comments may be submitted in the following ways:

- Submit a comment on the project website: <https://publicinput.com/udotplanning>
- Email: planning@utah.gov

Feedback and suggestions on how UDOT might improve participation methods and opportunities are appreciated.

All comments must be received by 11:59 p.m. on March 13, 2026.
