Jami explained that we are partnering with the Sheriff's office and the county jail to relaunch our participation with the SHED program that works with prisoners to offer services that assist the shelter and enriches the prisoners. Talia explained that one of the goals of this program is that the prisoners can also receive training with us in the animal trades for potential future careers.

4.4. Legislation, Talia Butler, Division Director

Talia explained we have 2 bills we are working on in the 2026 legislation session including a bill that will classify Animal Control Officers that are not under a police/sheriff agency as first responders. The second bill will address the issues of court holds regarding animals. The bill allows for a quick determination within the 1st hearing to be made regarding animal placed on court holds and prevent animals from being forced to be held in the shelter for extensive periods. Talia explained issues we encounter in the current process and used a current case we handled where the dog was forced to be held at the shelter for over 3 years due to the lengthy court process and the owner failing to show up to scheduled appearances that delayed decisions. Members discussed hardships and the effects on the animal with the current process and the differences between common court cases and protective custody cases.

4.5. Division Updates, Talia Butler, Division Director & Jami Johanson, Associate Division Director

Talia and Carrie went over recent updates including revamping our internal emergency notification process which notifies the cities we serve on emergency cases that we have handled. Animal Services will be scheduling meetings with each city to exchange contact information and go over how emergency cases are handled and received. Dustin suggested Animal Services attend council workshops to go over the emergency process.

Carrie Sibert explained that the current master contract with the USDA for the urban wildlife program is set to expire on 12/31/25. Carrie reached out to the USDA for a renewal, and it was in the process of getting drafted however with the federal shutdown the USDA administration staff have been furloughed so there may be a delay in getting it processed and approved before the deadline. Carrie explained that while the admin staff are furloughed it seems the trapping staff for the program are still active and assisting citizens. Audrey Pierce explained that with legislation for the urban interface involves agencies like fire officials but is unsure if animal agencies are included so she'd like to provide contacts to ensure animal agencies are included. Carrie clarified that if there is a situation involving wildlife Animal Services does not have jurisdiction over wildlife other than limited cases that involve a potential rabies exposure. If assistance from DWR is requested, we can offer limited assistance but typically services are limited to domesticated animals.

Talia explained that Animal Services is participating in an upcoming live enactment Active Shooter training with the Sheriff's department. This training will provide a training for staff on what to do if we encounter a real active shooter situation. Talia extended an invitation to members if they'd like to attend. Members expressed interest in attending and experiences with similar trainings.
