Acknowledgement of Student Artwork

This month, we are highlighting the schools from our University of Utah Region. We have art from the Canyons School District displayed, primarily from Willow Canyon Elementary. The BTS Arts teacher, Jaime Wizner, works with students on visual arts and science standards to create art based on hibernation and migration.

The second highlight is a video coming from the Granite School District. BTS Arts teacher Michelle T. Al-Safadi from Gourley Elementary used the holiday season to touch on social studies standards, creating art projects and music for students to perform about holidays around the world.

- 24847, Boundary Town School Kids K-2 Child Sexual Abuse Curriculum
- 24848, Boundary Town School Kids 3-6 Child Sexual Abuse Curriculum
- 24849, Boundary Town School Kids 3-6 Human Trafficking Curriculum

MOTION TO AMEND was made by Member Earl and seconded by Member Green that the Board approve recommending that PCAU update their curriculum to read, “Q: How would a child feel if an adult kept telling them that they are worthless?

A: They may start to think that what is being said is true.

Q: If a child believed that they were worthless, what do you think might happen?

A: Hurt themselves, hurt others, lower self-esteem, and a hard time making friends.

Q: If a child has been emotionally harmed, how could they respond?

A: Ask a parent or trusted adult for help, make new friends, try something new that could help you to feel successful, and remember the very best things about yourself and remind yourself of those things every day.

Q: Is a child EVER worthless?

A: NO. No matter what anyone ever says to or about you, you are special and valuable.

3 Explain: These are things that can negatively affect a child's life. Though it may not leave a long-lasting physical mark, emotional abuse can have a long-lasting impact. We don't have to believe the bad things people say about us, but words do have power. This is why we want to tell a trusted adult if someone is saying mean things to us, and we need to be careful about what we say to or about others. Children do abuse other children. When it happens in school and repeatedly, sometimes it's called "bullying" but it is still abuse, and it's not okay.

Hearing mean things said over and over can have an effect on a child but children can get help and they can still grow up believing in themselves."

The motion passed unanimously.

Monthly Budget Report

Monthly Budget Report

In accordance with the Money Management Act and the Budgetary Procedures Act, the Utah State Board of Education provides a report on the status of funds for its internal budgets.

Discretionary Funds Report

The Utah State Board of Education maintains a Discretionary Funds account. In accordance with the Money Management Act and the Budgetary Procedures Act, the Utah State Board of Education is provided with the status of the funds. This is a perpetual action item to facilitate motions by board members to utilize available funds in a consistent and allowable manner.

Course Choice Empowerment Enrollment Exceeds Current Appropriation

SB 137 (2025 General Session) created the Course Choice Empowerment Program. The appropriation for this program is $8.95MM, of which 8% was to go to the vendor of choice—Odyssey. Odyssey needed more time to ensure readiness of systems to manage the program, so USBE staff took the program administration back, temporarily, until April 1, 2026. Arizona State University has enrolled private school students in courses and the amount of enrollments is projected to exceed the available funding for this year. SB 137 established that the legislature can appropriate a supplemental during the next legislative session to cover the additional enrollment levels and associated costs.
