3. MAYOR COMMENTS.

Mayor Wood thanked the public for their attendance and input. Mayor Wood announced that Utah Gives, an official day of giving organized by the Utah Nonprofits Association, is scheduled for April 30, 2026, with early donations currently being accepted. The Promise South Salt Lake program, a recognized nonprofit organization supporting youth development and health initiatives, is participating in the campaign. A donor has pledged to match any donations made throughout the month of April.

Additionally, it was announced that South Salt Lake, alongside Sandy City and Tooele County, was certified as a City of Kindness during a recent summit hosted by the Semnani Family Foundation.

Finally, Mayor Wood concluded by highlighting a recent community service project at the Historic Scott School, noting that new trees and landscaping had been successfully installed.

4. CITY ATTORNEY COMMENTS.

None.

5. CITY COUNCIL COMMENTS.

Council Member deWolfe thanked the attendees for taking the time to share their perspectives. He acknowledged the frustration of receiving sudden notices regarding the Parkway Avenue easement without adequate context and committed to speaking with City officials to gather more information for the residents.

Council Member Williams expressed gratitude to the public and reminded the community that April is historically Earth Month. She echoed the importance of the Wait to Water initiative, stressing the necessity of adopting water-wise practices given the dry, high-climate environment of the state.

Council Member Thomas thanked the public for their input, noting that hearing from residents greatly assists the City Council in their work.

Council Chair Bynum specifically addressed the business owners who spoke regarding the Transportation Utility Fee. She announced that a majority of the City Council had requested the fee be paused to allow for further review and modification, assuring the public that the City Council is listening and striving for the best outcomes for the City, its residents, and its business owners.

Council Member Glad thanked attendees for their vulnerability in speaking publicly. She reminded the community that taxes were due that evening and noted that April 20th marked the Great American ShakeOut, encouraging residents to practice earthquake preparedness.

Council Member Jones read an email into the public record on behalf of Tamara Sorensen, a District 5 business owner who was unable to attend. In the communication, Ms. Sorensen outlined numerous concerns regarding the Transportation Utility Fee, including poor communication from the City, inequitable enforcement, and the exemption of thirty percent of properties.

Council Member Mitchell concluded the comment period by thanking everyone who spoke on both the Transportation Utility Fee and the Parkway Avenue matter. He reiterated the City Council's commitment to pausing and reviewing both matters to ensure the best possible outcomes for the City, residents, and local businesses.
