Hi, I have written this in my head for months but I don't think that you want to consider any other possibility. We do NOT need a new medical clinic in Springdale and it's the last thing we should spend money on. Helen and Mike did fine with their little clinic. I never used it. Most people I know here never used it. We have a hospital in Hurricane and the emergency clinic is open for 24 hours now. We have a fire department. When my husband was dying, they took us to the hospital in St. George more than a few times. They were fast and they were wonderful and the hospital was the only place that David could have gotten the treatment that he needed.

I have traveled all over the world and have never needed a doctor. I could say that same thing about a hundred friends.

And the very last thing we need in Springdale is a pharmacy. There's one down the hill. I use Walgreens in Hurricane and would NEVER use a small pharmacy. It's worthless. Plus most people get their medications shipped to them these days.

It seems to me that you should be considering the REAL needs of this community.

Thank you, Patricia Vail-Blackett
