Brian Kelley, Administrative Services Director, presented the proposed FY27 budget for Administrative Services Department which includes the following divisions: finance & accounting, human resources, facility services and information technology. The net general fund impact for FY27 for his department was an overall decrease of $112,000. He provided a summary of budget adjustments to his department which included the following: elimination and underfilling of positions, reduction in travel and meeting expenses, funding of employee engagement and wellness initiatives, one-time capital project costs, and IT capital equipment investments.

Following the presentation of the Administrative Services budget, Mr. Kelley reviewed the proposed budget for Non-Departmental. He reviewed key budget transfers of programs to the departments directly responsible for managing and administering the program services: the neighborhood traffic safety program, employee tuition and recognition program, building and safety professional peer review services, and audit services. These changes are primarily administrative reallocations and do not create new expenditures.

Police Chief Jeff Nigbur and Deputy Chief Cory Hess presented the FY27 budget for the Police Department. They reviewed the FY27 grants, costs associated with software upgrades, drone upgrades, training, dispatch, special programs (SET Team), ammunition, cell phones and one-time costs. They spoke about the capabilities and effectiveness of using drone technology in law enforcement. They also reviewed future challenges to their department and the financial impact.

Fire Chief Ryan McConaghie presented the tentative FY27 budget for the Fire Department. He provided an overview of proposed budget requests, cost savings, grant funding, and future needs and reviewed how their budget considered the council's budget priorities. He reviewed grant funding sources, cost savings related to training, recruiting, inventory management and cost sharing. He also reviewed budget requests and fleet replacement needs.

James Sorensen and Brian McCuiston, Community Development, presented and overview of the department's FY27 proposed budget. They reviewed cost savings and department line item adjustments. General fund savings during FY26 were returned to the general fund. Mr. Sorensen thanked the Council for funding the Administrative Law Judge. This program has been very effective and successful.

Kasey Dunlavy, Economic Development/Redevelopment Agency Director presented an overview of the department's FY27 proposed budget. He reviewed department efficiencies which has resulted in budget reductions over the last four consecutive years. He reviewed FY26 highlights which include participation/development agreements with developers, approval of Cairns HTRZ zone, and small business development and support. He also spoke about RDA project areas that are sunseting and the financial impact on the department budget.

Council questions and comments occurred throughout the department presentations.

Following the presentations, Council moved to General Citizen Comments at approximately 8:18 pm.

2. 26-272 First Reading: Council Member Houseman proposing amendments to the Sandy City Administrative Code Title 4 (Administrative Code) amending Chapter 4 (Departmental Organization) and adding a new Chapter 8 (Division of Communications)

First Reading: Council Member Marci Houseman presented amendments to the Sandy City Administrative Code Title 4, amending Chapter 4 (Department Organization) and adding a new Chapter 8 (Division of Communications). The proposed amendments serve to establish and define the specific functions and duties of the Division of Communications. This process has been in place and the Council has used this process before to define the functions and duties of City Recorder's division and the Human Resources division. The proposed ordinance will provide the structure necessary to ensure our city's messaging remains highly coordinated and transparent to the public, administration, and the City Council. She mentioned at the start of her presentation that the Council received a legal memo from the City Attorney at 4:30 pm this afternoon that was requested by the Chief Administrative Officer regarding the proposed ordinance. Ms. Houseman has requested a legal review of this memo by the Council Attorney.

Ms. Houseman provided an overview of the proposed amendments. Utah State Code 10-3b-203 authorizes the City Council with creating, consolidating, or abolishing departments, divisions and further authorizes the City Council to adopt an ordinance defining or altering the functions and duties of each department and division. We are not creating new authority this evening. The Council has this authority already, and this ordinance puts a process in place for the Council to receive the information we need to fulfill this statutory duty as the legislative branch of Sandy City. The proposed ordinance will provide the structure to help resolve three problems: visibility, accountability and ensure the equitable use of resources by both branches of government by setting clear expectations. This ordinance creates a clear path for defining our communications standards while protecting the Council's role in oversight and policymaking. When the Council needs communications support, this ordinance will ensure that support is available. Following Council Member Houseman's presentation, the Council provided feedback and a lengthy Council discussion followed. Many on the Council acknowledged the Communications team and the great service they were providing to the City and residents. Council expressed support for this item to move to a second reading.
