Subject: 2026 CWC Board Retreat

Date: June 22, 2026

The Central Wasatch Commission Executive Committee is recommending that the CWC Board hold a half-day, summer retreat to educate, refocus, and strategize around the trajectory of the CWNCRA. Chris Robinson, Summit County Councilor and CWC Commissioner, was involved during the Mountain Accord process, and has the institutional knowledge of the CWNCRA and of the catalyzing events for the creation of the Central Wasatch Commission that will be important to convey to newer Commissioners before his tenure in elected office comes to a voluntary end at the end of 2026. Chris can impart that knowledge and information to Commissioners during a Board retreat.

The Executive Committee will schedule a special meeting to determine the substance of the retreat agenda. It will broadly focus on discussing the background and history of the NCRA and the future trajectory and plan for the organization and the legislation.

Staff have disseminated a scheduling poll to determine a date between July and September during which this will take place. A calendar invitation will be sent when the date is determined.
