Dixie Transportation Executive Committee meeting

The County is trying to find funding to build the “Purgatory Bridge” connecting Washington City and Hurricane. There will likely also be a multi-use trail parallel to the road and across the bridge. The road is currently in the design process, and they hope to have a plan ready to apply for funding in March of 2027. There is no completion date for the road and bridge. Passing lanes are being added to SR-59, not to add capacity but to improve safety.
