

Proposed Trail Names and Definitions

Backcountry Trail

Composed of natural materials. This trail type is for access to undeveloped areas such as mountain access or Forebay. A trailhead with dedicated off street parking and toilet facilities are required as this type of trail would be appealing to Elk Ridge residents and non-residents.

Dedicated Trail

A dedicated trail is the most common trail type in Elk Ridge. The material composition could be either concrete or asphalt depending on the trail location in the city. Width of the trail could also vary depending on several factors such as whether the trail is in new or existing development, available right of way etc.

Road Share Trail

This trail type is located in areas where development exists without sidewalks or any other trail type. It would be on the roadway with a painted line or lines delineating the trail from motorized traffic. Street parking would not be allowed on the side of the street where the trail is located.
