

Marketing Question #1

[Client] is hosting a charity golf tournament through its charitable organization, [Client Charity]. Would paying for a foursome group to participate in the charity tournament be considered an impermissible thing of value under Utah title insurance regulations if the primary purpose of paying for the group is supporting a charitable event?