- The authority is partnering with FFSL to leverage Utah Lake funding for carp removal and invasive vegetation management.
- Progress on the Nature Center includes reducing design costs from 22 million to 12 million dollars.
- Additional funding for the Nature Center is being sought through UVU, Sen. John Curtis, and legislative requests.

Deputy Director Report - Sam Braegger

- Staffing updates include upcoming postings for an administrative intern and a fractional CFO position.
- Operations will transition to MacBook devices and explore moving to larger office spaces in Utah County.
- Sam provided updates on the lakewide sign plan and progress regarding 11 master plans for access points.
- Infrastructure improvements include a new marine sewage pump installation in August and recent boating access grant completions at State Park.

Events & Communications - Kelly Cannon-O'Day

- Kelly Cannon-O'Day reported that the carp bounty program successfully removed 5,805 fish, resulting in over $26,000 in prizes.

- Upcoming activities include a co-sponsored beach day in American Fork and a commemorative Utah Lake 5K.
- The annual Utah Lake Symposium is scheduled to take place at Rocky Mountain University for Health Professions.

Events & Programing - Heather McEwen

- Heather highlighted upcoming events including the Scavenger Hunt and photo contest.
- ULA will be tabling at various city and county events during the rest of the summer.
- Two new lifejacket loaner stations are now up and available at the Utah Lake State Park.
- Social media growth was highlighted by ULA's new Social Strategies Specialist Dayna Jorgensen, who saw significant increases in Facebook and Instagram engagement through creator partnerships.

Development & Funding - Shelby Kozak

- Shelby Kozak reported on the launch of the Utah Lake Foundation website and its new accounting software.
- The foundation is utilizing exclusive product drops at tabling events to encourage donations via themed apparel.
- A new monthly newsletter from the foundation is slated to begin in August to build a sustainer program.

Restoration & Conservation - Alex Stosich

- Alex reported that 20 acres were dished with native wetland seeds in Millrace this spring.
