Ogden Valley General Plan Update

Weber County invites you to attend an upcoming open house to review a draft of the proposed Ogden Valley General Plan. Drop in any time during these casual meetings to learn how the County used the public's feedback to craft the draft. Discuss your questions with the planning team and offer your opinions about planning the Valley's future. Both open houses will have the same information – pick the one that works best for your schedule! After the open houses the public will have time to thoroughly review, consider, and provide comments for the draft plan.
