This project will install a precast concrete decorative wall between the Salt Lake Community College campus and a section of the residents along Bowling Avenue (project extent may be modified). The existing variety of fencing will be replaced with a 10' stamped concrete wall (Taylorsville typical style). The open house held for the residents last week was well attended. Construction of this new wall along the south side of Community Blvd. is scheduled for construction after May 7, 2016 to correspond with the end of semester at the college.

The city obtained complete funding through the State of Utah and the Salt Lake Community College.

On March 15, 2016, the City of Taylorville's Building Department will transition to an electronic plan review format for all building permit applications. Instead of bringing building plans to the city offices, plans will now be submitted electronically to the city's plan review website: <http://taylorville.eprocess360.com/login>

Here you will be able to check the status of plans, schedule inspections, and manage your building permit. This website will simplify the permit application process and allow users to inquire about the status any time of day. The building department is available to offer first-time users assistance with website use and set up to scan and upload their plans. This change will streamline the overall process and assist in keeping permit costs as low as possible.
