STUDY SESSION

Affordable Housing Policy Discussion - Joint Meeting with Planning Commission:

Planning Commission members in attendance: Adam Strachan, Laura Suesser, Melissa Band, Douglas Thimm, John Phillips, Preston Campbell, and Steve Joyce. Mayor Thomas opened the meeting and stated affordable housing was a continuing issue. Real Estate prices continue to rise, and as children grow up, they are no longer able to afford to live in the community. He hoped there would be open discussion, including ideas on how to address this issue.

Rhoda Stauffer, Affordable Housing Specialist, reviewed the discussion points that came out of the EPS study: balancing of community-based solutions with regulatory incentives, expanding the applicability and raising the density bonuses available to projects that include affordable housing, modifying the employee generation rates to reflect the outcome of the local survey of businesses, establishing a housing goal in a numeric target, modifying an in-lieu fee calculation, making the residential obligation portion of the resolution applicable to all residential development, pursuing a blended approach to structuring affordability protections, i.e. shared equity in addition to current appreciation caps, establishing timing goals for revisions to program policies and amending the housing resolution, and establishing priorities for allocation of the $40 million set aside for affordable housing development between now and 2020.

Council Member Henney thought accessory apartments were a good move in addressing affordable housing. Not only were they affordable but they increased the housing stock within the City. He thought this could play a role in the future as well. Council Member Matsumoto knew that many neighborhoods prohibited accessory apartments, and hoped that those neighborhoods could be encouraged to allow this type of affordable housing. Steve Joyce stated if the City pushed the position of being favorable towards accessory apartments, HOAs might have a harder time enforcing their rules. John Phillips stated old town had restrictions on accessory apartments. His concern was that the number of vacation homes in the City was increasing, so neighborhoods were no longer neighborhoods. Melissa Band stated neighbors were concerned that there were too many cars parked in front of rental properties. Council Member Gerber gave examples of employees camping or living out of their vehicles because they could not afford to live in Park City.

Constructing small rental units was discussed by the group. Mayor Thomas felt this should be a focus moving forward, and stated home ownership may not be feasible for this community. Anne Laurent stated the City was discussing projects like the Empire that was designed for seasonal housing, and she welcomed input on that topic as well as input with regard to subsidies the City might give for this type of housing. Matsumoto felt the City should spend its money for year round housing, and the resorts could provide the seasonal housing.

Council Member Beerman hoped the trend of residents leaving the City could be reversed. He proposed that a goal be set so progress could begin, and suggested the goal of 220 units by 2020. Council Member Gerber indicated there were seasonal workers who worked at the resorts summer and winter, and had become year round residents. She hoped these employees would not be categorized and the City should not think in terms of us versus them.

Joyce expressed his frustration of the slow progress being made towards the housing goal. This had been discussed for the last 18 months, but nothing had come before the Planning Commission. He stated the code needed to be changed to make affordable housing easier to access.

Council Member Worel agreed that an audacious goal should be set. She asked who was being targeted for the affordable housing projects. Stauffer stated the study would clarify the target population for this housing when the report comes out in October. Laurent indicated the product the city puts out would determine which target population it appeals to. She also talked about the difficulty of choosing the persons of need when selecting candidates for deed restricted housing. Band asked if there had been progress on partnering with developers. Stauffer stated many different projects were in the works.

Council Member Henney stated one priority for affordable housing was essential employees, but noted the ski resorts had a different definition of essential service providers. It was difficult to determine who was essential because there were many different aspects of the community which required different types of essential workers.

It was indicated the Planning Commission should be used as a long term planning body and not just a body that handles the Land Management Code. Joyce suggested new ideas should be discussed to help developers build affordable housing, noting that the current incentives were not enticing enough because the developers were not taking advantage of them. Council Member Gerber stated nobody had the answers on how to achieve the goal of having 25% of the workforce living in the City, but a goal needed to be made. Council Member Beerman stated a short-term goal should be set as well as a long-term goal.

Bruce Erickson, Planning Director, stated that until Council gave the word on what they were willing to give up in the code, progress could not be made in achieving this goal. Joyce agreed that height incentives could be given to developers, in spite of the fact that tall buildings were not popular with the residents. One Planning Commissioner indicated that a 220 unit goal by 2020 was good, but he was not in favor of sprawl, so he suggested that the goal should be 220 units with no annexations.

Mayor Thomas suggested encouraging a second story addition to commercial development for the purpose of the second story becoming residential units. Council Member Matsumoto asked why these housing projects took so long to go from first approval to finished projects. Council Member Beerman suggested putting affordable housing projects to the front of the queue for reviews, design, etc.

Another idea was to offer subsidies to keep residents in old town and Park Meadows. Council Member Henney asked what would need to be given up to get the projects that were in the pipeline out of production. Erickson stated if the plans would be approved without being extremely scrutinized, less changes would need to be made and moving through the process would be simpler. Some things Erickson felt might need to be given up could be recreation, open space, height restrictions, etc. Mayor Thomas stated that projects could be done fast or done well. Good projects took time and the community would have to live with it for many years to come.

Council Member Henney stated he thought great progress was being made. Projects were in the pipeline and nothing had been given up. Mayor Thomas indicated the process could be stepped up. Erickson asked that the Council members and Planning Commission members encourage accessory apartments in their own neighborhoods. Mark Harrington explained different concerns with affordable housing within the community and stated the next step was to define the locations for affordable housing and move forward from there.

WORK SESSION

Council Questions and Comments:

Council Member Matsumoto stated she attended a Sewer Board meeting and they were making progress on their building expansion.

Council Member Gerber indicated she attended the Historic Park City Alliance (HPCA) annual meeting and they elected new board members. She also attended the Planning Commission meeting. She requested that staff have 220 affordable housing units by 2020 and 800 units by 2026. The Council agreed to bring this item to a future meeting for further discussion.

Mayor Thomas stated he attended the Transportation working group with Summit County.

Council Member Worel went to the Historic Home tour was stated it was very well done. She indicated the Summit County Behavioral Health Needs Assessment is finished and looks forward to reviewing that. She also went to the Affordable Childcare Task Force meeting but there was no representation from the Hispanic community. She went to the Chamber board meeting as well, where they approved their annual budget.

Council Member Henney attended the Recycle Utah meeting and noted there would be many events this summer. He also attended the HPCA board meeting and spoke to the group about the Trademark issue. He attended the Board of Adjustment meeting, and also indicated he attended his son's wedding in New York City.

Council Member Beerman stated he met with Utah League of Cities and Towns (ULCT) board of directors, and indicated there would be a Legislative Special Session this summer to discuss the transportation bill that added a gas tax and road funding. There was a clerical error which was shorting the cities by $12 million which needed to be corrected. He noted nightly rentals had ongoing negotiations. He attended a COSAC meeting, where they discussed passing additional protections on the library field. The Central Wasatch Commission also met and would convene formally next month. He also attended the Prospector Square HOA Board meeting, where improved walkability was discussed.

Public Art Advisory Board Policy Update:

Jenny Diersen, Special Events Coordinator, and Brian Markman, Public Art Advisory Board (PAAB) Chair presented this item. Diersen thanked the board members for their work on the board. She reviewed the functions, goals and strategies of the PAAB. She stated public art enhanced the community as a cultural destination. She also discussed funding for art and wanted to discuss temporary art as well as permanent art.

Diersen stated that the board policies had proposed changes, including attendance requirements and the extension of board terms from two to three years. She updated the Council on recent art projects within the last year at the library, Quinn's Junction and Poison Creek. Markman indicated the board spent hours on updating its policies and working on projects.

Council Member Worel stated this board had now defined its role, which was a great first step. To the questions on Page 95 in the packet:

1. Does City Council agree with PAAB's current recommendation regarding the role of Arts Council's support of the Board including reducing its role to administer the PAAB? The Council supported the recommendation. Council Member Henney asked how the increased staff time impacted Diersen's workload. She indicated it had become a normal part of her workload.

2. Does City Council agree with PAAB's current direction to amend board terms to two (2), three (3) year terms and adopt both attendance and voting policies? Staff recommended modifying the Terms to promote continuity across projects. The Council supported this change.

3. Does City Council believe that PAAB should continue to focus on visual arts, or should they explore making recommendations regarding inclusion of temporary exhibitions and performance experiences and funding sources for such programs? Council Members Beerman and Worel wanted permanent art displays and suggested that Diersen could bring back a temporary art project for Council approval on a case by case basis. Markman clarified temporary art and proposed a project where the pedestal would remain but the art on the pedestal would rotate. Council Member Matsumoto was supportive of temporary art but not performing arts. Council Member Gerber recommended waiting for performing arts as well and supported wraps on the power boxes. Council Member Henney asked if the sound garden was visual art, to which Diersen replied in the affirmative. Council Member Henney stated he was good with what the board recommended. Mayor Thomas agreed with Council Members Beerman and Worel. Council Member Gerber stated she agreed with Council Member Henney. Diersen confirmed that temporary art was approved but not performing art.

4. Does City Council believe that PAAB should continue to explore including all permanent works, rather inside of or on City property in the collection?

5. Does City Council agree with the purpose of the Public Art Advisory Board including program goals and strategies?

Diersen stated that during the discussion of questions one through three, the Council had answered questions four and five as well. She stated other projects would be art on power boxes, and temporary art at the MARC, Lower Park Avenue and other locations. Council Member Gerber stated she would like to see interactive art as well.

Monthly Transportation Update - State Route 248 Corridor and Safety Improvement Project Update:

Alfred Knotts, Transportation Planning Manager, presented this item. He indicated he presented a plan to UDOT that the City would take the lead on this project and UDOT would support it. He reviewed the history of the SR 248 project and the options for this corridor, including having a flex lane and adding an HOV lane for transit. Council Member Beerman asked if the bike lanes would be sacrificed with this project implementation. Knotts stated the bike lanes would remain.

Knotts stated the project would progress in three phases: Richardson Flat access improvements, HOV/Transit only lanes, and school access improvements with an increased number of cross walks. He also reviewed that local funding would be used for design and UDOT would plan for construction. If federal funding was approved, it would be an 80% / 20% match. He stated the design process would be worked on during the winter months, and he hoped that the survey work and the geotechnical work could be done in the next few months. He thought construction could take place in 2018.

Council Member Henney asked if Knotts was comfortable with UDOT or Federal funding. Knotts stated UDOT was proactive and approached Park City because they knew this was a high priority for the City. He also stated there would be a cooperative agreement between the City and UDOT.

III. PUBLIC INPUT (ANY MATTER OF CITY BUSINESS NOT SCHEDULED ON THE AGENDA)

Dana Williams, former Park City Mayor, stated that he spoke to some on the Council who listened to the feedback from the last meeting and felt the atmosphere did not seem angry. He had discussed the trademark issue with various people, including a former deputy director of the Federal Department of Patents and Trademarks, who stated this department was looking at issues that could arise such as would it cause confusion, was it in the public domain, etc. Williams wrote a petition, and saw many anonymous people. He contacted about ten of them and found they feared retribution since they worked for Vail, owned a business, or were scared to identify themselves. He gave a copy of the petition to the recorder to enter into the record. He also reviewed that Bill Malone spoke at the last meeting and stated the Chamber would not oppose the trademark. Williams contacted members of the Chamber and they related that they were never contacted about this issue. Williams thought Malone must have been speaking for himself and not for the members of the Chamber. He also talked about a guest editorial in last Saturday's edition of the Park Record about the City's international brand— that people all over the world know who we are as a destination resort, and Williams felt this would support fighting the trademark. He also talked about a Vail lawsuit that had been settled, and it cost the local business owner $30,000 in attorney's fees. Also, in the last 24 hours, somebody's job was threatened because she was verbal about Vail. Williams also stated it was the City Manager's and City Attorney's job to avoid risk, and this was a big risk. He encouraged the Council to fight the trademark.

Sarah Berry, Future Park City, read the following prepared statement:

Honorable Mayor and dedicated City Councilors, thank you in advance for giving us another opportunity to address the as yet unresolved matter of Vail Resorts and its move to trademark our town name and to enter comments into public record. I am here representing Future Park City.

Where our previously stated position supported Vail's trademark filing and right to protect against future ski resort operators attempting to co-opt the Park City name, potentially hurting Vail's valuable brand and our community, this support came with conditions which we have expressed and documented for you.

In the days leading up to the June 9th deadline to file for opposition or to extend (the same day City Council agenda'd the matter in pursuit of public input) and in the days immediately after, Vail offered very clear promises to the greater Park City community.

They said they would enter into an MOU with the City to protect all present and future businesses with Park City in their name against trademark action by Vail Resorts. They also said they would, and I quote, "offer" similar agreements to ANY local businesses wanting an additional layer of protection. Furthermore, they promised to disclose all of the Park City related trademarks they are holding.

Despite Vail having been in negotiations with the City, confirmed both by Vail and City Councilors present here today, to develop that MOU, and despite being a publicly traded company with deep financial and legal resources, it is 23 days since we had our own conversation with Vail, 21 days since the City Council meeting and STILL no municipal agreements have been published and no individual agreements have been offered.

As facilitators and monitors of the overwhelming majority of conversations Vail Resorts is engaged in with local businesses, we can confirm the following as of this very moment today:

- Vail HAS pursued trademark action against at least one local business. In advance of an agreement, that business spent money to defend itself and negotiate a resolution.
- Kristin Williams, Vail's SVP of Mountain Community Affairs, stated in an email exchange you were copied on late this afternoon: "Every business we've spoken with has gone very well. No one has been told to draft their own agreement."

In fact, one business was asked to propose its own agreement. Vail rejected it. There are costly lawyers involved.

- Again Ms. Williams "We have not gone dark."

When we asked Andre Shoumatoff, co-owner of Park City Bike Demos and seeker of an agreement with Vail Resorts just yesterday about his talks with Vail, his update was quote "radio silence." We asked for permission to share this information and got one more update from Andre at 4:30pm today. Still nothing from Vail.

- Ms. Williams "We are working toward a universal agreement form based on the conversations we've had and the concerns we are being asked to address and that we could get that back to folks potentially by the end of this week but certainly well before July 9."

Well before July 9th was last week. To deliver any small business a legally binding document and ask them to review it within a few days is absurd.

- Ms. Williams has not disclosed the other trademarks Vail holds.

I will refrain from addressing any of the cloudier issues today such as brand confusion and community trust. What I will offer is our new position.

The likelihood that another company anywhere in this world will try to trademark "Park City" as it relates to the operation of a ski resort is slim to none. And if it does happen, Vail Resorts has decades of established ski resort business under the name Park City Mountain Resort as well as piles of cash to fall back on in mounting an opposition to someone else's attempt to trademark "Park City." In its most recent investor presentation, Vail itself states that they perceive no real competition in the marketplace and that no one is opening new ski resorts. Their growth strategy is solely acquisition based.

Lest they gobble up everything good about Park City before we know what happened to our cool, quirky and anything but corporate town, we now stand with Former Mayor Dana Williams and the myriad other engaged community members in fully opposing Vail's trademark at this time. So until Vail improves communication, becomes fully transparent, makes good on all they've promised and shows that they truly intend to be a good neighbor long term member and community leader, let's eliminate concern for everyone in Park City, mount a thoroughly defensible opposition campaign on issues of confusion which stand to hurt Main St businesses significantly and "just say no."

VII. NEW BUSINESS

1. Consideration to Approve Ordinance. 2016-31, an Ordinance Adopting Title 11, Buildings and Building Regulations, Chapter 21, Utah Wildland-Urban Interface Code, of the Park City Municipal Code:

Chad Root, Building Official, and Kurt Simister, Fire Marshall, presented this item. Root stated this ordinance would approve the 2006 Wildlife-Urban Interface manual. He stated the benefits to adopting this ordinance would be that the City could pay into a state insurance fund or make payments in-kind to ensure that the properties and buildings were more fire wise. The City cost would be $5,000 if this ordinance was in place. He explained that structures burned faster than wildlife.

Mayor Thomas asked if there would be requirements with regard to vegetation in proximity to buildings. Root stated there would be regulations set up for landscaping on new construction. Simister reviewed that defensible space was the space that would give firefighters a better chance of extinguishing the fire. Root stated these regulations would apply to new construction or remodeling projects over $50,000.

Council Member Worel asked who would pay if a wildfire started today. Root stated the City would pay. Foster further explained the current process for being reimbursed by the state and that there was no guarantee of reimbursement. Root stated this ordinance would protect residents from their neighbors' carelessness, and would protect residents from wildland fires. It was indicated the City would be liable for $5,000 plus $10,000 in-kind.

Steve Barker, Elliott Group, stated the 2015 version of the Wildland-Urban Interface Code was being adopted tomorrow. Root stated that was true but the 2006 version was the only version approved for municipal adoption by state officials.

Mayor Thomas opened the public hearing. No comments were given. Mayor Thomas closed the public hearing.

Council Member Gerber moved to approve Ordinance. 2016-31, an Ordinance adopting Title 11, Buildings and Building Regulations, Chapter 21, Utah Wildland-Urban Interface Code, of the Park City Municipal Code. Council Member Henney seconded the motion.

Jonathan Weidenhamer, Economic Development Manager, presented this item. He explained this contract was for pre-design work and the construction contracts would come to the Council at a future date.

Mayor Thomas indicated the timeline would be important to the Council. Council Member Gerber asked what the timeline was for the housing options for the Fire Station Lot, because there was an error in the staff report. It was indicated this would be expedited. Steve Barker, Elliott Group, stated the fire station process was to be worked on at a faster pace than the other parts of the project. He hoped to have everything approved by fall so there could be a spring construction start date.

Council Member Beerman moved to approve the City Manager to enter into a professional service provider agreement in a form approved by the City Attorney's Office with Elliott Work Group, in the amount of seventy thousand dollars ($70,000) for project management and pre-design. Opposition to Vail's attempt to trademark Park City

Petition published by Dana Williams on Jun 18, 2016

459 → 23%

Background (Preamble):

Vail Corporation has been granted the use of Park City as a trademark, subject to a protest period.

Over a hundred businesses and individuals have filed protests. We are asking the Mayor and Park City Council to challenge the trademark and exercise their right to participate at the federal level to protect our name.

There are two prongs to this petition, first, to get the city involved and secondly to get this petition to the appropriate federal agency.

Petition Text:

We, the undersigned, respectively ask the Mayor and Park City Council and the Department of Patents and Trademarks to oppose the trademarking of our community's name by Vail Corporation.

The reason for our opposition includes, but is not limited to the following:

1. The name Park City is in the public domain and should not be allowed exclusivity. Park City's rich history from mining town to world class multi-seasonal resort has created a "brand" that is known worldwide.
2. Park City is a geographic location. The confusion created by duplication of the locations is obvious.
3. There are numerous businesses with names that are in conflict with the potential granting of the trademark. This has the potential of creating years of litigation as local companies try to protect themselves.
4. It just breaks our hearts!

Park City has a long history as a mining town. VAIL resorts has only been here for a few years and their trademarking the name will create confusion to visitors and hard feelings to those businesses who have Park City in their names. 1787 Fletcher Keyes

Back to signature list

I am against the Vail Corporation instilling their blind drive for profit behind the Park City logo. Vail Corporation has not only displayed blatant disrespect to the local community during its amalgamation of the PC resorts, but its huge overuse of water during its first full-fledged ski season as owners of PCMR and its disregard of the natural resources of the Park City area is reflective of its corporate persona: maximize profits at all cost.

1785 Manette Manz

I do not believe there is a need by Vail to Trademark the words "Park City". These 2 words have been the name of our town since 1884. They are also part of many of our local business' names. I believe this causes unnecessary confusion to our guests, skiers, tourists as to what is part of our ski area and what is independent of it. Recently just trying to brand The Canyons as Park City has been confusing for locals and non-locals alike. . Just add another word or two; that seems simple enough. We've always differentiated our town "Park City" from our ski area, "Park City Ski Area"; "Park City Mountain Resort"; "PCMR". It has not been a problem this way. Vail can Trademark words that describe their resort, i.e. Park City Mountain, but please not the name of our town, "Park City". It is ours collectively, not Vail's! Also, it just breaks my heart! Thank You!!

I am resident of 10 years in Park City. I value the history and integrity of the community here. I co-own a business with Park City as part of our name and brand. The business is named Park City Fly Fishing Guides. I am concerned that, despite their current position, Vail Resorts could conceivably try and forcefully destroy my brand and business in the near to intermediate future. To allow the corporate power of Vail to acquire this potential power is an absolute sellout and outright betrayal by our community leaders and city government. The fact that they are even considering not supporting the action of this petition is disheartening. One more step in the destruction of what was Park City. I respect Dana Williams and I am genuinely grateful for his efforts in this cause. Thank you Dana!

Do not let some out-of-towners claim Park City. Only true businesses from that town deserve the name. Just as sparkling wine from Champagne deserve the appellation "Champagne", so does anything (and only anything) produced in Park City, deserve the appellation "Park City". Thank you.

Park City existed long before Vail ever was a ski resort. Vail has no history other than as a ski resort. Let them patent something that has to do with a ski resort not our town.

The City of Park City can't let this happen. Whatever Vail says, they can't be trusted. As a volunteer at PCMR, and Vail, I have first hand experience. As Vail wants to grow into other areas of real estate, entertainment and recreational experiences to make more money for the public company they will be tempted to expand the original intent of the trademark.

Okay, so I live in Denver now, but Park City is my home and always will be. When I talk to people about Park City now, they say "oh, the ski resort?" This rebranding is detrimental to our identity and our unity as a community (unintentional rhyming!). If Vail wants exclusive access to the term Park City to keep competitors in the ski business from elbowing in on "its" brand image, the TOWN of park city should be the one licensing the name to Vail, not the other way around. This allows the town to protect its name - which non-Parkites may not understand is integral to the Park City community - and also allows Vail exclusive access (as monitored by the city government) to "Park City" in all mountain resort-related facets.

Vails trademark application is pure subterfuge - they claim they only want to trademark "Park City" for the ski industry and agree to not interfere with other businesses that already have Park City in their name - a trademark lawyer should get involved - to me this means that future businesses or even future owners of existing businesses will need to buy a license from Vail - after all Vail is a corporation and it's all about revenue. If they want to only trademark the name Park City for the ski industry why don't they trademark "Park City Ski and Snowboard Resort" or something similar which directly addresses their intent rather than trademarking the name of the whole town and a community that has been there long before Vail showed up and will be there long after Vail disappears.

Park City is a huge part of Utah history. The families and communities in the area have worked very hard for many generations to upkeep the great old silver mine town and they have been very successful in doing so. 1394 Jeff Swindel

Back to signature list

The fact that Vail wants to trademark Park City is absurd, even if they say that they just want to make sure no one else names a mountain resort with Park City in it. So, are they worried that Deer Valley is going to change their name to something with Park City in it? The only reason that the town of Vail is called Vail is because it wasn't around before the development of the resort. Park City has had its name well before the resort was around and there is much more history to the city than that of Vail.

Back to signature list

I believe "Vail" corporation has no more right to trademark "Park City" than all other local businesses that enjoy Park City as their location. While I feel Vail is a welcome addition to our community, allowing them exclusive naming rights to our city's name is highly inappropriate. Even if it is only for the purpose of operating ski resort services. Vail did not create the Park City brand, and will enjoy it's benefit with or without a trademark. Providing them a trademark to "Park City" risks setting a precedent for the future of the town that is not in line with our communities character and ideals. When individuals sit in their homes hundreds of miles away and they hear the term "Park City" it should be in relation to our community. Not a branded ski resort or corporation; Park City is so much more.

1367 Amanda Taighani

Back to signature list

As a former UT resident and a lawyer, I think the trademarking of Park City as a name is absolutely absurd. This isn't like Vail, where the town and ski resort evolved together: Park City pre-dates skiing by a long time, and has traditionally been home to three resorts. And in the Vail example there is at least the possibility to distinguish between the "town of Vail" and "Vail Resort." But "City" is part of what they are trying to trademark!

Having spent over 10 years in Park City, I am adamantly opposed to a corporation trademarking the city's name. Would that mean we would have to change the name of public institutions, such as the Park City Library, because we'd be in violation of the trademark?

I grew up in Park City, have ancestors that settled the area. I feel what Vail resorts is doing and has done to this city and its business and people is disgraceful and outright shameful on their part. To use money and power to hurt a city and the people in it should not be allowed by our system.

1208 Jesse Shetler

Their attempt to trademark the name will both confuse the tourists and put too many restrictions on other local businesses that have a right to use the name "Park City"

Park City is a geographic location. The confusion created by duplication of the locations is obvious. I live in Park City, not in a resort.

There are numerous businesses with names that are in conflict with the potential granting of the trademark and my husband's is one of them. I feel the need to protect ourselves from a potential lawsuit down the road.

1190 Hope Melville

Back to signature list

There is already not only "likelihood of confusion", but there is ACTUAL CONFUSION, when Park City Mountain Resort/Vail Corp. sends out communications as from "Park City". One does not immediately know whether the communication is from or on behalf of Park City [Mountain Resort] or from Park City [the municipality, or the town in general]. These two entities are not one and the same, and use of the same moniker, "Park City", causes confusion as to the source of the services and the entity rendering those services.

No trademark registration should be granted to the applicant, Vail Corp., for the mark "Park City" due to the "confusion" in commerce that would result.

I'm a Utah native. "Trademarking" the name Park City is ridiculous. This is a town, not a business entity. The Vail Company knew that prior to purchasing the ski resort. I agree with all objections. It would be a travesty for Park City and it's image be tarnished by turning our special city's name in to a corporate trademark. Local businesses have worked hard to establish themselves under their chosen names which would be extremely unfair to them. And yes, our pride in our city would take a big morale hit. Park City is a town. Vail Corporation is a for profit corporation. The citizens of the town do not necessarily agree with, support, or have any interest in promoting or even being associated with the interests of the corporation. The commingling of names is a deliberate attempt by he corporation to appropriate what rightfully belongs to the town and its citizenry. Some commingling is ill advised and, if permitted, will only serve to create confusion and conflict where none presently exists.

Park City as existed long before Vail came around. This is purely a money grab and should not be condoned. Park City cannot and should not be trademarked under any circumstance by anyone. Vail Resorts bought a ski resort with the name, however many other businesses in the area have Park City in their name too. They didn't originate the name and therefore do not deserve to hold a trademark on it any more than anyone else who wants to use it to [self] identify with the world-renowned area.

1074 [REDACTED]

Back to signature list

To trademark the name after decades if not centuries of public use seems a misuse of the name. Park City has been the name of a City for much longer than Vail has owned the ski area and the city and the small companies should not be burdened because a greedy business now after all of 12 months wants to trademark a public name.

A peaceful openly helpful community, again no where to be found with the Uber rich taking over, feeling entitled and shitting on the little guy that makes this town run. Vail trademarking PC is handing them the town on a silver plated and saying "it's yours now, do what you wish". We seriously need to ask ourselves as a whole community " do we want our nice peaceful mountain ski town to become LA or NY"? locals and tourists(no matter how arrogant they can be) love this city because we aren't that. Trade marking a city name? Come now.

682 Shelly Schwab

Back to signature list

I was born and raised in Park City, fourth generation. The name represents more than just a ski resort. It represents the people of Park City. It is ludicrous that any corporation can trademark the name of a city. The city was there long before the ski resort and vail corp.

680 [REDACTED]

Back to signature list

FUCK VAIL, taking our heart filled hometown and transforming it into a corporate shitswamp only after $$$

676 Karen Shaw

Back to signature list

I cannot beleive this is truly happening. Park City is a geographical location, my home and belongs not to a coporation but a community.

675 Steve Gibson

Back to signature list

Allowin VAIL to trademark "Park City" would be much like allowing China to trademark "Unighted States of America" NO, VAIL, NO!

669 Chas Oliphant

Back to signature list

Come on, can everything be bought!?!?

660 Dianne Molsberry

Back to signature list

The name "Park City" has been the name of the town for over 100 years. Long before any of the ski resorts started and LONG before Vail bought PCMR. Vail has NO right!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

657 Mellie Owen

Vail is not a company that supports the community, environment, or its employees they hire.

655 Brent Kimball

You may have unethically obtained the resort but you cannot have the Park City name for yourself. Park City has a proud history and proud people.

653 Lucas Dumas

Back to signature list

They are already taking our town don't let them take our name too...

652 charles Morgan

Back to signature list

Never have I been so glad to get fired from a company. Vail treats their employees and communities like shit to make the extra dime. They over hire, they seek ways to fire employees who are hard workers, and cause hundreds of people to be homeless each year. They talk about an "epic promise" to protect our environment, and then leave lights on and music on all day and night. They are a threat to the existence of a future ski industry, and should not be allowed to exploit other communities and other people. Vail IS an evil empire.

649 Nella Poquette

Back to signature list

This is unacceptable. It is the history, location, activities, and most importantly people are the one that made "Park City" known worldwide. Do not let ANY company use the name all residents worked hard for on what it is known now! Park City doesn't need vail company. Park City can stand on its own. People will go here even Vail Resort is not here. What they did was an ASSHOLE move, but approving it is worse. Don't be blinded by the money being offered. Park City can make more than that.

608 Ryan McElmon

587 Patrick McDaniel

578 Craig Larsen

Back to signature list

Changing branding to Park City from Park City Mountain Resort is very troubling and devious. The sign on the Cole Spirits corner of Park Ave is proof that Vail does not have the rest of the communities interest in mind. Bad on you Vail!

570 T.J. Gleason

481 Brent Molsberry

the Town of Park City has been around a lot longer than the ski resort, and a hell of a lot longer than Vail has had any interest there.

479 Justin Horan

Back to signature list

For a company to come into this town and claim the town's name as "theirs" is perposterous. They will have full say in the way "Park City" is used in future. Businesses, people and public places will need the authorization from Vail to use the words "Park City". Are you kidding me?!? They have already stolen the name "Vail" and I will not stand for them having control of this towns name too.

There is entirely too much history here and such an amazing town in which we call home (and have for many years). I refuse to let this big company come here and in just over a year of being here claim that the town is theirs. I refuse to let them tell us what we can and cannot do with our town's name.

477 Tim Charlwood

360 ginger Tolman

I agree with the comments below, strategically, economically, and soulfully. Park City is all of us. Not owned by a corp. For all the good Vail has brought us, and there is good, this isn't part of that good. This is identity theft.

270 Drue Olsen

Back to signature list

Park City is more than an attraction for skiing or a name of prestige. It's a friendly and unique community that is home to great local businesses and organizations. 210 Linda Sailer

204 Jeffrey Lyon

This is absurd greedy, business tactics that should not be allowed. I have worked in Park City for years. Way before this low brow company decided to show its face in our community. They should not be given the rights to the name of a community they never built. They only came in with a ton of money, this doesn't mean they get to own the soul and name of the town. Do what is right, what is right is not giving a corporation such power over a small mountain town.

203 Lee Caruso

Back to signature list

Park City, and it's named businesses that ARE the community of Park City (NOT Vail Resorts). Long time businesses should not be potentially subject to lawsuits and be forced to change their name simply for Vail Resorts' greed and trying to re-brand their newest purchased resort AS the town of Park City simply because their legal and marketing department takes creative use of trademark law and has absolutely no morality or ethics.

There is no reason why a company should be able to own a town name that it didn't start. Park City is used to define an amazing geographic location and area not just to define a ski area. That is a small piece to this awesome town.

169 Alan Agle

Back to signature list

This makes a complete mockery of Vail's sham MOU offered to the city as cajolery. Clearly, Vail is attempting not to protect itself; it is attempting a deception and usurpation of commerce from Park City's retail center and established businesses. Why does the city delay in formulating a vigorous response?

168

Back to signature list

Vail is taking everything from the city. Let us keep our name that was established long before Vail even existed.

165 Kerrie Meier

Back to signature list

162 Siena Hester

Back to signature list

Park City is not a trademark! Park City is the home of families and friends that have rallied around the beauty and recreation that this town has to offer for years. Vail has no right to come into OUR town and transform the place we call home into a corporate trademark. This is devastating and downright sickening. Keep historic Park City independent and free of corporate greed.

143 Bill Edwards

Back to signature list

I am in agreement with the above statement. Vail should not be granted use of the name Park City. The name is been used by many businesses in town for many years and the town itself is named Park City.

I was born and raised in park city Nd even though I don't live there any more I still come back for 2 to 3 months a year cause the town ins in my blood and I will always call it and consider it home. It is a part of me just like it is a part of everyone else that grew up there and everyone that still resides there! By trademarking the name as a ski resort it will make the whole town resent the resort and vail more than a lot of people already do. It will take that part of them that is park city away!

It is ridiculous to trademark the name of our town. Grow a backbone and stand up to Vail

Please fight to keep what makes Park City unique and special - don't allow the homogenization of our community.

Park City IS NOT a brand name. It is a town in Utah. Period.

This is just wrong on every level. Park City should not be owned by a corporation. It's a place where people live, work and play

No way should this be trademarked.

Park city has been my home for over 40 years, my wife, me children, my grandchild, will only know it as PARK CITY

Leaves a pit in my stomach that Vail, a huge corporation, can swoop into our little town and because they have tons of lawyers and money, can commandeer the name Park City and mold it in its own image, with no thought that before Vail came along, Park City meant small town, charming, outdoor recreation, clean air, healthy living, elite athletes, quality restaurants, a vibrant art community, world class trail systems, the Winter Olympics and more. Most importantly, to the residents, it means 'home.' It's our city, our town, our community. It's the school district and the UOP. It's the Silly Market, Main Street, the Kimball Art Center. WE ARE ALL PARK CITY. And Vail does not get to own us. I'm counting on the City Council to fight this issue tooth and nail.

Vail has trademarked Park City Mountain, and Park City Resort, and Park City Mountain Resort. They do NOT need to have Park City.

Vail Corporation has already created bad blood with our community. They should gracefully, and respectfully, withdraw the trademark and give us back our name.

81 Sue Gordhammer

Park City Mountain or Park City Mountain Resort is an excellent name for a ski resort and since they already have that trademarked, this shouldn't be an issue. Our town's name is not a brand for Vail to own.

Please do not allow this mega monopoly to continue its strong hold on our town!

As. Former resident of Park City, I believe there is no basis to grant this request. The municipality of Park City existed long before the ski resorts. Unlike other resort towns that took their name from the ski resort. Park City is a geographic location that has nothing to do with the business of Vail and its parent company.

This is the most ridiculous thing I have ever heard of! How is it that a new comer to our beautiful town, can just come in and think they have some right to "high jack" the name of the city in which they do business?

Park City is a valuable brand today because of the collective efforts of many different individuals and businesses. As such, no singular business should be permitted to co-opt the name. Future businesses should be permitted to use the name Park City. Other skiing businesses exist within Park City and should be permitted to market with the Park City brand should they so choose. Deer Valley exists within Park City- we have cross country skiing offered as well. This petition by Vail should be roundly rejected.

This just feels like overreach. We can all benefit from Vail's presence, but they should remain respectful of Park City, its established businesses and traditions. This is EVERYONE'S place. Park City is a moniker that describes this place, and any/every existing or new business, school, non profit, or club, sports team ect should be able to access this name now, and in the future, to associate and market their specific endeavor with the name "Park City". Vail will do just fine without this trademark associated with their ski mountain.

22 Sean Railton

Back to signature list

Vail should only be able to use the name Park City with the descriptor "mountain resort" or "ski area" following. We are more than a company town and we have worked hard to be more, our identity should not be tied to them? I cringe seeing the signage with just the words "Park City" on vehicles and road signs.
