a. Complaint Process- We do have a set process on how complaints are handled. Also, I wanted to talk to the members of Planning and Zoning to try to stay out of the nuisances as much as possible. When there is a member of the Town who has a complaint on one of the nuisances, such as weeds being too high or not being connected to sewer, etc. The process is that, they need to file a written complaint with the Town of Stockton. We have to have a written complaint, the reason for that is because Utah is a no victims, no crimes state. Meaning without someone to be a victim or go on record as a victim we cannot prosecute them. Once somebody goes on record and files a written complaint, that written complaint then goes to the Town Clerk. After that goes the Town Clerk in this case, Ashlee. She then will notify either myself, Rod, or David. Someone will go out and determine whether that complaint actually exists or not. Then after we would go to the Town Clerk and let her know that yes it is. She will write a certified letter, and it has to be certified because they will have to sign for it. In that letter it will let the person know that they are in violation of whichever ordinance it is and give them 30 days to rectify the situation and let them know how we want it rectified. It will also include the penalties if they refuse or cannot get it rectified by the 30 days. That person can come to the Town Clerk and say "I got your letter but it's going to take me a little more time to get the problem resolved", she and the Mayor will determine whether it is acceptable amount of time or not, or they can report to Planning and Zoning.

7. Old Business

Don Hill- Is there any update on the Stockton Miners Café sign in front of Area 52?

Mayor Karjola- We had a hard time finding an address to send the letter to, we had sent off the letter to Ron Holmes just a couple days ago. He has 30 days from the date on the letter to get the sign removed.

8. Town of Stockton General Plan Discussion

a. Update

Joe Johnston- Went and looked at some of the other communities that are about the size of Stockton. Joe is going to get the rest of the ideas and put them in a folder and give each Planning Commission member a folder to go over and look at the General Plan. Before we do anything with the General Plan or the Annexation Policy, we legally need to have a Public Hearing to notify the Town that we are going to modify the General Plan and the Annexation Policy. The General Plan needs to be done before the Annexation Policy. Everyone needs to sit down and talk about when and how we are going to do it. We got to the point to where we know what we want to modify but after we all sit down and discuss it we may or may not decide that we want to change it.

Mayor Karjola- Going to take Joe to the training in Salt Lake City to learn more about the General Plan.

Don Hill- Should we be working on a new plan before we talk to the people?

Joe Johnston- There is certain things that we can do, but we cannot change the main context of the General Plan. We can plan and know that we are going to have a public meeting and we are going to have to answer questions that the public will have.

Gary Hunter- The Utah State code title 10 talks about two different types of meetings, a Public Meeting to get input and a Public Hearing on what we have come up with. We should have a meeting within the next couple months so that we can get the word out to the Town that we are going to do something and need the public's ideas. That gives the public time to read the General Plan and come up with ideas.

Joe Johnston- We will have a notice of intent to update the General Plan in our Planning Commission meeting in November.
