Library Business

Tate reported the activities at the library. Daniele Springer is conducting a program called "1000 Books before Kindergarten." Thirty people have signed up and three children have already read 200 books.

Daniele was on the Greg Madsen program on radio station 104.9 on Monday the 6th. The purpose was to let the community know about the library programs. Since the interview ten new library cards have been issued.

The Library is sponsoring a video game tournament-Smash. Details are in the works.

Library wants to be able to issue library cards to kids without parent's approval. This might enable more children to participate in the library programs without waiting for their parents to come to the library.
