May: Mike Murphy/Wayne Eckman

June: Murphy/Callister travels

July: Independence Day

August: Arts Council dinner

September: Emily Holmgren friends and family

October: Cowboy poetry

November: Susie Carter

December: Christmas on Onion Street

AnJanette: Should there be thank-yous for the participants at the program tomorrow? Are Arts Council thank you notes available? Thank yous could be sent to the directors to share with their groups. AnJanette will work on making a thank you that can be used by the Arts Council.

Independence Day

Debbie: Food is all set: Sliders, Rice bowl, corn dogs, Apollo, Taco Truck, Snow Cone booth and she working on the Dole Whip booth.

Shelly: The Cinderella carriage is too expensive. She may work on something with princesses. Shelly has done an extensive search for participants in the parade. She is still waiting to hear from some.

Shelly would like to have a Clown school. Students could participate in the parade and make balloon art etc. at the park. Debbie has information for the Clown contact who is Zak. The cost would be $400 for 2 teachers for 2 days plus $20 for supplies. $15.00 for a bag of balloons. They will give suggestions for clothes and makeup. They can take up to 10 students. Could the Arts Council help to pay for this? Advertising could be on the Marquee and also at the elementary school. Would AnJanette work on a flyer for the school?

Lucile: Shelly will need to determine when the school could take place. June?

Leger Deli might be willing to provide an entry in the parade.

Lucile: Will there be horses? Yes. Shelly has contacted several including 4 H and Shriners.

Will the recreation center still honor passes that have been handed out during the parade in the past? The new manager of the rec center is Theodore Miller 843-714-9079.

Jason Meservy will be Citizen of the Year.

Don and Dorothy Zesiger for Grand Marshalls

David Soper Veteran of the Year?

Candy during the parade

Duane is concerned about children running into the road for candy that is thrown from the parade entrants. Entrants will be encourage to make sure the thrown candy is clear of the road and children and parents are cautioned. Debbie will order Swedish fish for Arts Council to throw from the boat.

All of the pop-cycles should come from Pace's.

Games at the park

Emily: Signage is in motion. She has asked Paul Maloy if the Youth Council would be willing to help run the games. She met with Tiffany Allen and got a lot of good information about the games. Tiffany said there was a request to have another game under the pavilion.

Debbie: There will be plenty to do. No beads this year.

Debbie said her mother could separate the tickets for the children's games.

Eric will order the canvas tank for the dunking booth. He and Dave Lubbers will build it. The tank can be stored for future activities as well.

Once Around

James: City Council will start the process of discussing the budget next Tuesday. Debbie would like them to consider more funds for the Arts Council in their plans.

Lucile: Dianne will not be to every meeting in the future because of family needs but Lucile would like her to continue to do what she has been doing with the newsletter etc.

Debbie: Gary Edmunds, city history, has some artifacts from a historic home that no longer exists. A brick, stucco nails and a photo. They could be displayed in some way in city hall.

Eric: There won't be a photo [contest]. The Arts Council will accept photos. Duane said 20-25 photos would be good. Dorothy Nelson has a photo of the old McKean barn.

Eric moved to adjourn. AnJanette seconded.
