HOUSING FIRST MODEL

The DAVHA program provides assistance using the Housing First and Survivor Driven approach. The Housing First Model is an approach that focuses on getting survivors of crime into safe housing as quickly as possible and then continuing to provide support (continued housing, supportive services) as they rebuild their lives. This approach can be used for those survivors who may need short term (0-3 months) of assistance.

SURVIVOR DRIVEN HOUSING

Survivor Driven Housing addresses the needs identified by survivors rather than on predetermined needs established by other agencies.

This may include survivors staying in their current housing or connecting them to emergency, short term or long-term housing.

Survivors lead the process of how to rebuild their lives, with support from our program and other community resources.
