PROJECT OVERVIEW

Logan City has proposed to demolish five (5) buildings located within the Center Street Historic District: 41, 45, 47, 55, and 67 N Main. This report has been prepared as a historic record of the buildings proposed for demolition. This report consist of an overview of all buildings, and specific documentation of historical detailing on the two buildings identified as contributory to the historic district, 41 N Main and 67 N Main.

All the buildings are owned by Logan City. The proposed demolition is to allow for redevelopment of the site and adjacent Logan City owned property into a public plaza, mixed-use building, and structured parking. Primarily, on the site of the proposed demolition, will be the public plaza, and mixed-use building. The buildings demolition footprint is approximately 174' x 152'. The 174' fronts Main Street.

HISTORIC BACKGROUND

Located along historic Main Street and across from the Logan Tabernacle, the demolition site is located in the historic center of commerce and community in Logan. The buildings vary in year built and historical integrity.

41 N Main

Possibly the most historically significant building slated for demolition, 41 N Main Street was built in 1919 and housed Cardon Jewelry. Cardon Jewelry was started by T. B. Cardon who came to Logan in 1867. The Cardon Jewelry, furniture, and photography business was originally located in 45 N Main. 41 N Main housed the Jewelry store from 1919 to early 1980s. Fred's Flowers occupied the building in the 1990s. The building is a two-story commercial building. The building has large picture windows on the main floor, large rectangular windows on the second floor, and a heavy cornice supported by double brackets.

In Michael Christensen's 1978 Survey for Historic Homes for Logan City (1978 Survey), the building is listed as "Contributory" in the preliminary evaluation and the building condition is listed as good and unaltered.

The 1999 Reconnaissance Level Survey (RLS) gives the building a "B" evaluation, meaning the building is considered contributory to the historic district, built within the historic period, but has had alterations.

The 2011 RLS gives the building a "B" evaluation, meaning the building is considered contributory to the historic district. The 2011 Survey describes the architectural style as "Victorian Eclectic."

45 N Main

The original building at 45 N Main was built in 1881 and was the first three story building in the city. As with 41 N Main, the original building was built by T. B. Cardon. While housing Mr. Cardon's business enterprises for a time, the building was also leased to various businesses, including a general store and a clothing store, in the late 19th and early 20th century. Local directories show that the Logan Hardware Store occupied the building from at least 1929 to 1979. Bennett's Glass and Paint occupied the building during the 80s and 90s. By the time of the historic district survey in 1978, the front façade had been sheathed in aluminum. In 1997, the façade and building were extensively renovated. The renovation of the façade produced a facsimile of the original building façade and detailing. The renovation included office and banquet space. The building was renamed Plaza 45.

In the 1978 Survey the building is listed as "Contributory" in the preliminary evaluation and the building condition is listed as good with minor alterations. The 1978 survey commented on a handsome façade that could be seen under the aluminum.

The 1999 RLS gives the building a "B" evaluation, meaning the building is considered contributory to the historic district, built within the historic period, but has had alterations. The comments on the survey include that the building was reconstructed in 1997 and that it had been de-listed from the National Register.

The 2011 RLS gives the building a “C” evaluation, meaning the building was built during the historic period but has had major alterations or additions and no longer retains historic integrity.

47 N Main

Built in 1898, this building was originally a harness and saddle shop. Later the building became a jewelry store. Baugh Jewelry occupied the building from at least 1947 to 1977. The 1978 survey noted that the façade was clad in aluminum. In 1984 the aluminum was removed and stucco was applied to the facade. In 1998, a façade grant was given for material repairs.

In the 1978 Survey the building is listed as “Contributory” in the preliminary evaluation and the building condition is listed as good with minor alterations.

The 1999 RLS gives the building a “C” evaluation. Noted in the survey is the 1984 stucco.

The 2011 RLS gives the building a “C” evaluation.

55 N Main

The Emporium building was constructed in 1977. The Emporium replaced the old JC Penny department store that occupied the location from at least 1946. Originally, the site had consisted of at least two building, F.W Woolsworth at 51 N Main, and JC Penny at 59 N Main. All of these locations were conglomerated into JC Penny and later the Emporium. The Emporium remodel consisted of a complete façade redesign and gutting of the interior to allow for a mini-mall of about 20 stores.

In the 1978 Survey the building is listed as “Not Contributory” in the preliminary evaluation and the building condition is listed as excellent with major alterations.

The 1999 RLS gives the building a “D” evaluation, meaning that the building was constructed outside the historic period and is not considered contributory.

The 2011 RLS gives the building a “D” evaluation.

67 N Main

The other building on the demolition list that retains much of its historical integrity, 67 N Main was built in 1890 for the City Drug Company. The City Drug Store occupied the building until 1955. During the 1950s, 60s, and 70s, Gallenkamps Shoes occupied the space. The two-story building features large picture windows on the first floor, and large rectangular windows on the second floor. The 1978 Survey notes that the building originally featured a Greek temple-like gable, but that detail had since been removed.

In the 1978 Survey the building is listed as “Contributory” in the preliminary evaluation and the building condition is listed as good and unaltered.

The 1999 RLS gives the building a “B” evaluation.

The 2011 RLS gives the building a “B” evaluation.

HISTORIC PHOTOS

The project area is the historic heart of commerce and community in Logan and features prominently in several historic photos.

Photos shown in this report are from the History of Logan by Ray Somers, Logan Library Special Collections, and USU Library Special Collections)

Main Street 1894 - The project site is located in the middle of the block.

Track Construction along Main Street c. 1911 - The second floors of 41, 45, and 47 N Main can be seen behind the track crew. The Cardon Jewelry pole sign can be seen in front of 41 N Main.

Soldier Parade c. 1914 - 41 N Main is the second building from the left. 45 and 47 N Main are slightly obscured by a tree. The building that occupied the space of the Emporium is featured middle right.

Cardon Building c. 1892 - The Cardon Building was the first three story commercial building in downtown. Plaza 45 recreated this historic facade. The buildings on either side predate the current buildings at the location.

Main Street c. 1940 (Deseret News Photos) - This image of Main Street shows the entire project site from 41 N to 67 N Main.

Main Street Sidewalk c. 1930 (Logan Library) - This image shows the store fronts and projecting signs for 45 N, 47 N, 55 N and 67 N Main.

Main Street C. 1940 (USU Digital History Collections) - This image features Cardon Jewelry (41 N Main), Logan Hardware (45 N Main), 47 N Main, F. W. Woolsworth (51 N Main), J.C. Penny (59 N Main), and a beauty school and likely City Drugs at 67 N Main.

Main Street C. 1960 (USU Digital History Collections) - This image shows the combined 51 N and 59 N into building a single JC Penny building.

The building's architecture is important, but the building has greater significance in the fact that it has housed a family business since its construction.

T. B. Cardon began business in Logan in 1867 as a jeweler, the same trade that is carried on today. Besides his jewelry line which included silverware, Cardon dealt in furniture. The Logan newspaper in 1892 had the following to write about Mr. Cardon, "He is always alive to the best interests of the public, is a hard worker for the welfare of the city..."

Today the building is owned by his grandson and houses Cardon Jewelry.

Description of physical appearance & significant architectural features:

Include additions, alterations, ancillary structures, and landscaping if applicable

This three-story structure is constructed of brick and stone and was the first three-story building in the city. The building is still in good condition except the upper two floors of the front facade have been completely covered with aluminum. Underneath the siding is a handsome facade with a set of three two-over-two windows on both the second and third floors all of which are crowned with Roman arches and capstones.

Statement of Historical Significance:

This building was built in 1881-82 by T. B. Cardon, one of the most prominent businessmen in early Logan. Cardon emigrated from Italy in 1854 and six years later joined the union Army and fought in the Civil War.

The three-story brick and stone structure was, "the first business house of that size in the city," wrote the local paper in December 1892. The building was leased to various firms over the years. W. T. Shearman's general merchandise store was probably the first, followed by Robinson Brother's Clothing Store in 1904. Another firm that may have leased the building in 1904 was Brock & Wood Temperance Pool Hall on the upper floor.

This building is now a mini-mall housing about 20 stores. The structure has a completely new facade and the interior was gutted in the remodeling process. Originally however there were two stores, Campbell & Morrell Clothing and Union Mercantile Company. In 1926 these two building were absorbed by J.C. Penney which occupied the building until 1976.

This building was built around 1890 for the City Drug Company which began business in 1889. According to the Utah Journal, the store carried a complete line of, "pure drugs, chemicals, patent medicines, toilet articles, berneral sundries, paints, oils, varnishes, brushes, wines, liquors, ...besides an elegant line of Holiday Goods." The company also manufactured its own medicinal physicians' prescriptions. The newspaper states further that, "the commercial standing of this store gives them access to the very largest markets and a purchasing power second to none in this country, thereby guaranteeing to their customers the lowest possible prices." The building has since that time housed many different businesses, the present being the retail outlet for Mode O'Day.
