PUBLIC FORUM Continued

Steve Southwick said he and other residents of homes east of Riley's are in attendance tonight to let the City know that they do not have pressurized irrigation and only use culinary and they don't have sufficient water pressure. He read a few statements from some homeowners that were not in attendance explaining their situation.

Alan Riley said they have lived in the area for quite a few years now, and he understood when Patterson built the project that there would be two water tanks. With the low water pressure, he wondered if there was enough pressure in the hydrants to take care of fires in that area. He said he doesn't know how much lower the new tanks are than the previous tank but that could be up to 5 pounds less pressure. He wondered if there was a way to connect the new tanks to the Patterson tank, which might be a solution.

Ruston Jacobson said that he noticed when his sprinklers were installed, he saw that it goes from a ¾" line and wondered if it shouldn't be a 1" line instead. He said he would appreciate city staff looking for any solution to their pressure problem.

Van Devereaux said that he lives below the old Riley home and when he moved in he had adequate pressure but this year he couldn't get the sprinklers to pop out of the ground. He said he has installed a pump for water irrigation and runs that at night, but if you use flush the toilet while the pump is running it takes an hour for the toilet to fill.

Manager Tuckett took the names and contact information from everyone in attendance on this issue and will get back to them.

Water Superintendent Brent Arns said the new underground tanks are a little lower so the pressure would drop 3-4 pounds but when the hydrants were tested there was 40 pounds of pressure. He suggested that the city could come and check the pressure at the homes. The Patterson tank is constructed above them and when it is completed the pressure will be very high.

Manager Tuckett said that Patterson is supposed to finish the pipes from the tank as the development is finished. We might be able to finish this project with the water tank bond money and then work to get reimbursed from Patterson.

CHAMBER BUSINESS OF THE MONTH

Zach Voorhees and the Payson Chamber of Commerce, presented the June 2013 Business of the Month to Jody Porto of Uptown Maiden. The Council congratulated them.

REQUEST BY THE U.S. POSTAL SERVICE TO INSTALL CENTRALIZED MAILBOXES ON CITY PROPERTY

Planner Spencer explained that Trisha Houghton with the Payson Branch of the U.S. Postal Service is requesting approval from the City Council to install three (3) 16 unit centralized mailboxes on City property in the Downtown area. The service area includes the four block downtown area. The Post Office plans to discontinue door to door mail delivery to the businesses and residents in the area and transition to centralized mailboxes. The Post Office is requesting the City sign the attached Property Release Form authorizing the placement of the units on City property.

The original proposal of the Post Office suggested financial assistance from Payson City to acquire decorative collection boxes and to place the units in the Breezeway near the Payson Library. Staff has met with Ms. Houghton to discuss alternative locations for the units which would eliminate the need for decorative collection boxes. We are suggesting one in the parking lot behind Daily Freeze and then two behind the City Library.

Security was mentioned and Council felt that the locations proposed would work if the options work for the post office and the businesses. Planner Spencer said that staff would make sure we wouldn't violate any easements before allowing the locations.

Councilmember Phillips noted that he would like to see them so the businesses don't have to walk two blocks to get their mail. Councilmember Hancock agreed that the businesses should be involved in deciding the location.

MOTION by Councilmember Skinner to allow city staff to work with the Post Office with their request but request that they contact the business owners to help locate the facilities. Motion seconded by Councilmember Hancock. Motion carries.

RESOLUTION – AMENDING THE CITY FEE SCHEDULE

Manager Tuckett presented a table showing a comparison of what other cities charge for park rentals and cemetery fees and plots.

A concern of leveling headstones was brought up and Golf Professional Tracy Zobell said we could do the leveling but felt we needed a policy or some sort of liability waiver in case the headstones get damaged.

Councilmember Phillips wondered what the city’s plan was for the veterans section of the cemetery for when it is full. Manager Tuckett didn’t know how close it was to being full, but we would have to expand it and the whole cemetery.

We didn’t have any comparisons with other cities on fees for the veteran plots, but Manager Tuckett said that the reason the fee is higher ($50) is because of the flags, crosses, and the things that go into that section.

MOTION by Councilmember to approve the Resolution approving amendments to the City Fee Schedule as presented except for the Veteran’s portion and have more research and comparisons done before it is presented again. Motion seconded by Councilmember Hardy. Motion carries.

Redevelopment Agency FY 2012-2013 Budgets. Motion seconded by Councilmember Hancock. Motion carries.

Receiving no public input MOTION by Councilmember Hancock. Motion seconded by Councilmember Ford. Motion carries.

Public hearing closed at 7:48 p.m.

Manager Tuckett said that we don’t have the official Certified Tax Rate yet from the County, and he noted that the CPI is built into the utility rates, which is a 1.7% increase across all utilities. He knows there were some councilmembers with concerns so if the council doesn’t want to implement that, we would have to do some cuts based on that additional revenue.

Councilmember Hardy felt it was good to consider a CPI increase because we haven’t had the increases in the past to match inflation, so had to have large increases in one year to catch up with the cost of operation.

Councilmember Skinner wondered what that increase would do to an average city bill and Manager Tuckett explained that the City engineer figured it would increase a resident average bill by $2.83 per month.

Councilmember Phillips said he is in favor of the CPI for those reasons mentioned but felt we need to be careful with commercial rates, because he is concerned that we are too high and might be impacting economic development. He felt we need to keep competitive, and if we want to be in the power business he suggested the possible use of smart meters and to have them pay more during peak times.

Councilmember Hardy agreed, but didn’t want to impede the budget process.

MOTION by Councilmember Phillips to approve the budget amounts as proposed. Motion seconded by Hardy.

Councilmember Ford agreed that next year we should have a survey and know how we compare in rates prior to putting in a CPI increase, and then the Council could decide which rates should be raised.

Motion carries.
