SUBJECT:

Doug Hunter general manager will give council an update on the carbon free project.

BACKGROUND DESCRIPTION:

Santa Clara City has been involved in the Carbon Free Project for years. Many of the council have attended training meetings over the years regarding the project. Santa Clara's excited about the project because of it's cost at 5.5 cents per kwh and we can see a great need in the future. But as some members have dropped out, it has increased cost to Santa Clara and I felt like we needed a review with council for more direction. So I've asked Doug Hunter the general manager of UAMPS to give us his take on the project. Yes, this project is a risk, but doing nothing is even a great risk as capacity is going to become shorter each year. I still feel strongly, that this is a great project that will benefit Santa Clara for many years to come.
