- Includes facts of the case, analysis, conclusions and recommendations outlined in the Staff Report, with any changes noted; Planning Commission determination is generally consistent with the Staff analysis and determination.

RELATED ACTIONS

The Planning Commission also continued the related zone change, Item 2, at the July 14, 2021 hearing.

STAFF PRESENTATION

The Staff Report to the Planning Commission provides details of the facts of the case and the Staff's analysis, conclusions, and recommendations.

CITY DEPARTMENTAL ISSUES

- The Coordinator Review Committee (CRC) has reviewed the application and has concerns about proposed buildings over City rights-of-way and utilities. Existing roads and utilities may need to be moved, and/or proposed roads and utilities relocated. Staff is also concerned that the applicant did not provide any elevations or floor plans for the proposed townhomes. Staff also asked the developer to demonstrate the proposed housing development would not be walled- or sectioned-off from the rest of the development.

NEIGHBORHOOD MEETING DATE

- A neighborhood meeting was held on April 1, 2021.

NEIGHBORHOOD AND PUBLIC COMMENT

- The East Bay Neighborhood Chair was not present for the meeting.
- Staff noted that most submitted comments were favorable toward the proposed conceptual development. They summarized comments from the Public, as follows:

- Generally supportive comments:
 - There is a shortage of housing (especially on the more affordable end of the spectrum). This proposal could help with the shortage.
 - The proposed development could provide housing for medical students from the Noorda Medical College.
 - The proposed project is close to public transit options.
 - Transit oriented development is more friendly (than many other types of development) to the issue of traffic congestion and air quality.
- Comments from those opposed to the proposal:
 - The City is approving too much high-density housing.
 - Why are we approving more large developments in the middle of a drought.
 - The developer is proposing to add more housing units to over-taxed utility systems.
 - We need more stores at the mall, not dwelling units.

APPLICANT RESPONSE

Key points addressed in the applicant's presentation to the Planning Commission included the following:

- Mr. Scott Bowles explained the constraints Provo Town Centre Mall has in working through a rezone and concept plan process.
- He explained the Mall has multiple interested parties and their own set of guiding documents to navigate through in working with us.
- The applicant wants to work with the City to pin-down the zoning for the subject property. After the zoning is in place, they will submit a project plan application with all required details, plans, etc. Buildings would be sited to not negatively impact utilities lines.
- After explaining parking arrangements with tenants at the mall, he emphatically stated that the only location that will work for a housing development at the mall is the subject property.
- He explained some lessons he learned from observing apartment development near a mall in a neighboring city. One apartment complex he is aware of—although near restaurants and shops—is surrounded by pavement. Having a development that is cohesive with the mall is important.
- Staff asked for guarantees that there would be a solid connection between the mall and the proposed development, or no sectioning-off of the development, and that a safe route for pedestrians to the UVX be identified and guaranteed. The applicant expressed uncertainty on what guarantees they can provide at this stage of the development.

PLANNING COMMISSION DISCUSSION

Key points discussed by the Planning Commission included the following:

- The Planning Commission was concerned with the lack of detail in the concept plan application. They were concerned about their ability to review parking, landscaping, and other site-specific issues.
- The Planning Commission voted to continue this item. The motion passed, 6-0. They want to discuss this proposal more at a work-session meeting—to give the applicant more guiding feedback to help facilitate further development of the concept plan application. After the applicant revises the concept plan—having received feedback from the Planning Commission—the proposed rezone and concept plan will be brought back to a regular Planning Commission meeting for consideration.
