Approval
#2021-514 of the Contract with Charity
Shreve for Indigent
Defense Legal Services

27. Approval #2021-514 of the contract with Charity Shreve for Indigent Defense Legal Services —
Presented by Legal Defender Coordinator Todd Utzinger

Todd began by telling the Commission how much he and the Legal Defenders appreciate the consistent and meaningful support they get from the Commission. That support and that people throughout the state know that our County Officials respect and appreciate the work of Legal Defenders makes it possible for Davis County to recruit quality applicants when there are openings. Todd stated that the applicants the County received for these four positions were amazing. He continued by stating the Legal Defenders were able to achieve a number of goals. The Legal Defenders have wanted to have at least one defender in each courtroom law and motion session who speaks Spanish as a second language; we can now do that. Todd explained that with the requirements from the United States Supreme Court that Legal Defenders advise non-citizens of potential immigration consequences, they have been trying to build a group of attorneys that have experience in that area. The County will now be able to have a Legal Defender in each courtroom, except for one, who has immigration experience.

With these hires, every one of our Legal Defenders have a minimum of five years of experience pertinent to criminal defense. Other counties can't always say that. Oftentimes, other counties hire new graduates and train them in misdemeanors on the theory that those are less important when in fact, misdemeanors can carry important consequences.

Todd advised that attorneys not only have to juggle their caseload but also have other obligations. The Legal Defenders recently implemented the case management system with the Indigent Defense Commission Defender Data. In the hiring process, they wanted to have people with management experience and experience with Defender Data. All four of the people we are proposing hiring have experience with Defender Data. Three of them are the managing partners for their law firms.

Todd advised that these four defenders are going to be able to reduce the overall caseload for each defender in District Court in keeping recommendations from the Indigent Defense Commission. With these additional defenders they are going to be better positioned to serve our indigent clients as we dig out from the growing backlog caused by COVID 19. That pandemic rocked the justice system down to its knees and it is time we get it up and running and Davis County needs to be a part of that. Todd expressed his appreciation to the Commission for recognizing that.

Todd stated that people sometimes ask how the Legal Defenders recruit applicants. These positions were posted on various websites and listservers. Notice through the criminal defense community always moves quickly by word of mouth. Because of this, input was gathered from other defense attorneys, judges and prosecutors prior to conducting interviews. All of the attorneys hired received a claim universally, not just from referrals.

Todd then presented the four applicants. Charity Shreve is a 2004 graduate of the University Of Idaho School Of Law. Charity graduated ninth in her class of 110 students. In Utah, that would make her eligible for the Honor of the Order of Koi which is a high honor. Charity served as a law clerk for a district judge for two years. She served on the United States Senate Judiciary Committee. Charity was then a defender with Salt Lake Legal Defender Association from 2006-2018. Having litigated over 50 jury trials including homicide and aggravated murder cases, Charity will be bringing a wealth of experience. Charity was raised and resides in Kaysville. The first year of her contract will be funded by the Indigent Defense Commission. The payable amount is $15,000 (remainder of 2021), and $90,000 per year with a 3% increase for the duration of the term, beginning 11/1/2021 to 12/31/2024.
