

CENTRAL WASATCH COMMISSION

Date: March 7th, 2022

To: Central Wasatch Commission (CWC) Board
Councilman Christopher F. Robinson, Chair (Summit County)
Mayor Erin Mendenhall, Co-Chair (Salt Lake City)
Mayor Jenny Wilson (Salt Lake County)
Councilman Jim Bradley (Salt Lake County)
Mayor Mike Weichers (Cottonwood Heights)
Councilman Max Doilney (Park City)
Mayor Jeff Silvestrini (Millcreek City)
Mayor Monica Zoltanski (Sandy City)
Mayor Roger Bourke (Town of Alta)
Mayor Dan Knopp (Town of Brighton)
Carlton Christensen (Utah Transit Authority)

From: Central Wasatch Commission Staff

Subject: Projects Update

Overview

The 2022 Short-Term Projects Call for Ideas will open on Monday, March 7th and close Monday, April 4th. Staff will weigh the pool of proposals against criteria then send a finalist group of project proposals to the Short-Term Projects Committee for their review. The Committee will meet mid/late April to deliberate over finalist projects and allocate funding. There is $50,000 in the 2021/2022 fiscal year budget to disburse to short-term projects.

The Executive/Budget/Audit Committee approved the appointment of Commissioner Roger Bourke and Commissioner Michael Weichers to the Short-Term Projects Committee, joining Commissioner Max Doilney.

Drs. Phoebe McNeally and Jim Ehleringer will present the beta version of the Environmental Dashboard to Commissioners in one-on-one meetings in the last half of March. The public engagement campaign for the beta version of the Environmental Dashboard will commence with the Stakeholders Council meeting on April 20th. A public comment period will also open on April 20th and extend through May 4th. The final version of the Dashboard is projected to roll out early-mid June 2022.