Notes:

- A lot of people out of town due to the holiday most likely. We discussed going forward that we will request an RSVP on attendance prior to the meeting so that we can cancel the meeting if we already know we won't have a quorum.

Street Tree Guide follow-up

- Rhett confirmed that the Tree guide resolution passed City Council with full approval
- We discussed the content to be placed on the website. We need the full street guide doc content on the Street Trees section of the residential page. We need to have a sub-committee meeting to discuss how to do that since it is a long list.
- We need to confirm that all of the previous versions of the street Tree guide are removed from the website.

Localscapes and Tree class

- The next Localscapes classes are scheduled and will have a different structure
 - Sept 14th will be in the council room class like last time
 - Sept 21st will be held at the Conservation Garden Park to allow participants to see first hand different plant options
- Tree planting and maintenance class taught by Laura Bakker will target September 7th
 - The council room is scheduled on the 7th until 6:45, so we need to confirm whether that will work. If not, the Mayor's youth council could probably move their meeting to the Parks and Rec conference room.
 - We will need to make questions available on-line and have support for monitoring those questions on-line
- Promotion
 - Jocelyn will lead the effort with the team
 - Draper forward announcement
 - Parks and Rec newsletter
 - Pursue multiple announcements via text and email and Parks and Rec email; with the focus on waterwise planting and water conservation, maybe we can get more city promotion
- Maybe include the city conservation garden

City hall landscaping

- Meeting this morning, then get bids; work targeted for Sept/Oct

No updates on city codes or adoption of JWCDC guidelines

Other projects:

- Funding done for Jensen Farms park - have it all designed this winter and be ready for bid - 700 West 11900 South - a nice trail connection
