---------------	----------------	---------------

A special meeting was held for a City Council retreat. Mayor Bott explained the subject matter for the meeting was to review and discuss the results of a recent City department director exercise. The premise for the exercise was an invention day where the directors were challenged to assume they were not directors, the City owned everything, and they could not say no. Aerial maps of the City and surrounding area were put along the walls so the directors could write and draw their ideas on the maps. Some of the ideas were practical, some involved future development of the west side of the City, and some were just fun and dreamy.

The Council discussed the director ideas that came from that meeting as well as the Council's own suggestions.

Mayor Bott stated Council would meet again in December to further discuss the viable suggestions.

The meeting adjourned at 7:26 pm.

The undersigned duly appointed Recorder for Brigham City Corporation hereby certifies that the foregoing is a true, accurate and complete record of the October 11, 2022 City Council Meeting.

Dated this 20th day of October 2022.
