Trey noted the area is staked with blue flags. Mayor Florang asked the council members go to the park and check out the new pavilion placement area.

Trey said he contacted an associate that works with Rocky Mountain Power and found the most affordable solution for power service to the new pavilion will be to have an electrician bring a drop line from the power pole that is approximately 30' from the southeast corner, making this a new metered connection.

The water service for the new park pavilion will come from the existing town park water meter located near 70 N 100 E.
