Annually, hundreds of associations, nonprofits, and business leaders plan "fly-ins" to Washington DC to bring members of Congress up to speed on areas of concern, important issues, or to advocate for or against bills pending before Congress.

Our Utah Federal Delegation staffers have created a custom fly-in for Chambers of Commerce to include valuable time with congressional members, behind the scenes tours, meetings with federal agencies, and time for networking.

Each member of the Utah Congressional Delegation will tell you of the importance of fly-ins. They play a pivotal role in the legislative process and provide a great opportunity for Utahns to visit federal delegation members and staffers in Washington D.C.
